Dropshipping is a method of retail fulfillment where stores do not actually stock their products. When someone buys a product, the store buys it from another party and then ships it to the customer directly. The merchant neither handles nor sees the product. Dropshipping is different from the conventional retail model in that, in dropshipping the seller does not own an inventory. He or she purchases an order from a third party. The dropshipping model, like everything else, has drawbacks and benefits. You need less capital: this is arguably the biggest advantage. You do not need thousands of dollars to start an ecommerce store. Conventional retailers need to have a huge amount of capital to build their inventory. In dropshipping, you only purchase a product once a customer has placed an order and made the payment. An initial inventory investment is not needed. Easy to start: an ecommerce business becomes much easier to run when you do not handle physical products. You will not worry about a warehouse, packing and shipping, tracking inventory, handling returns, and much more. Low overhead: since you will not be dealing with a warehouse or purchasing inventory, expect low overhead expenses. A lot of people run a dropshipping businesses from their home office with their laptop and only use about $100 per month. The expenses may increase as your business grows but they will still be low. Flexible location: if you have an internet connection, you can manage your dropshipping business from anywhere.

It is one of the biggest hurdles for people to overcome and most never get beyond the idea stage of having their own business and being their own boss. And understandably so; it can be expensive to start an online store and spend thousands purchasing stock, not to mention the risk of the products not selling. This is why dropshipping is an excellent way to get into the entrepreneurial world and start earning an income through a business of your own. Drop shipping lets you sell products without actually having to purchase any products beforehand. In other words, you set up an online store, you list the products you want to sell, and when a customer buys something, you then place an order with the supplier who then ships it out to them. These are just some of the misconceptions that many people have about drop shipping. Although there are some risks and hardships in a business relationship, and you may even need to work on something else just so you can earn enough, that doesn't mean that you cannot earn an income from this business model. Our book is written to help you answer those woes. We have a step by step guide on how you can ace drop shipping and improve your potential earnings from the business. We'll also enumerate some of the tools that you can use so that your drop shipping will earn income and eventually become more successful.

Perhaps the most essential advantage to dropshipping is that it's possible to launch an e-commerce store without the need to invest thousands of dollars in inventory to start with. Customarily, merchants have had to tie up vast amounts of capital when acquiring stock. But, this is unnecessary if you use dropshipping. With a dropshipping model, there is no need to purchase a product without you already having made the sale, and having been paid by your customer. Devoid of substantial up-front inventory investments, it is very possible to begin a thriving dropshipping business without minimal financial backup. It's Easy to Start Running e-commerce businesses is easier when you don't have to deal with handling physical products. When you dropship, you have no worries about *Paying for, or managing a warehouse *Packing and shipping your customers' orders *Tracking the inventory for accounting purposes *Handling inbound shipments or any returns, physically *Repeatedly ordering products and maintaining stock levels *Needing a storage place to hold physical products Low Overheads Because there is no reason to deal with purchasing any inventory or the management of a warehouse, your overheads and businesses expenses can be quite small. Many successful dropshipping companies are run from home offices with a single computer for less than $100 per month. As your business grows, it's likely these expenses will increase, but nonetheless, they will still be low when compared to traditional brick-and-mortar companies. Dropshipping businesses can be run from almost anywhere as long as you have an internet connection. This is vital to allow communication with your suppliers and your customers, both quickly and efficiently. Many successful online stores are run by people when they live outside of their home country, too. Because there is no need to pre-purchase any items you sell, you can offer a broader array of products to potential customers. So, if your supplier stocks a certain product, you can list it for sale in your online store, or on the platform you use, at no additional cost. With conventional business types, if you have orders for three times as much business, it is likely you'll need to perform three times as much work. With the leveraging of dropshipping suppliers, the majority of the work in processing additional orders is borne by your suppliers. This allows you to expand your business with fewer growing pains. Sales growth always brings some extra work. In most cases, this is primarily related to customer service. Companies that exploit dropshipping as a necessity, scale exceptionally well, especially when compared to conventional e-commerce businesses. All of these benefits make dropshipping an advantageous and efficient model to both new and established merchants, alike. Regrettably, dropshipping isn't always a bed of roses, though. All this convenience and flexibility comes with a few disadvantages. Let's shed some light on these. Are you ready to trade your mundane 9-to-5 in for something that can generate you more than you ever imagined? Do you want to have more time to spend with your family, friends, or doing the things you love? Then welcome to the wonderful world of Dropshipping. Today's savvy e-commerce business owner knows how to compete. In years past a business, shopped for the products they wanted to resell. They then purchased the items and stored them while they searched for an end user or consumer. Once the product was sold, they shipped the item to their customer and hopefully made a profit. This method is costly. Besides the price of the item, the seller pays shipping from the manufacturer (or distributor) to his location. He then stores the item, taking up resources and space until he resells the merchandise. He invests time and effort into marketing the item and either he or the end user pays shipping (again) to their location. All of these steps have to be factored into the price of the item to the end user. The customer will decide if the end price of the item is a bargain and is competitive. As the shipper, if the item is lost or damaged in shipping the expense of filing tracking and claims falls on him as well. Drop Shipping is a proven way of reducing or eliminating many of these expenses, thus making the end price lower for the consumer and more profitable for the seller. With drop shipping, a seller or retailer does not purchase the item and store it for resell, but rather sells the merchandise and ships it directly from the manufacturer to the consumer. The seller does not have to store the item or pay shipping from the manufacture to his location. He does not have to handle the item himself. This reduces chance of loss or damage and speeds up the process considerably! He needs less start-up money (storage rental can be very costly and a product on hand that moves slower than anticipated can create a cash flow problem right out of the gate) and can invest more time and money on his sales. He also does not have to reship the item and there is only one shipping expense to absorb, lowering the price of the item and making it of more value and profit for all concerned. If there is loss or damage in shipping, it falls on the manufacturer (or distributor) to provide the documents and file any claims with the shipping company involved. Okay, so all of this sounds great, right? But how do you get started? This eBook will teach you how! So, let's get started!

an effective way of reaching a wide audience easily considering that more than a third of the total global population is on social media. It is also a sure and efficient manner of turning the audience into loyal customers because it encourages engagement. The fact that social media allows for a two-way mode of communication makes it easy for consumers to converse with the brands they are interested in. Perhaps the best thing about social media promotion is that it provides a level playing field for small, medium and large enterprises. The same audience that a large business can access is the same that a start-up business can access. Notwithstanding, it doesn't take up a huge budget to create a large number of social media fans in a short time. This forms the confidence that you can make it on social media even if you are a beginner. However, how well it works for your business depends on the efforts you put into it. If you have tried before and failed, you have probably not followed the best tactics there are to grow your brand on social media. Despite social media marketing being among the greatest phenomena in the digital era, some marketers are not able to achieve their social media marketing goals. It takes careful planning and the use of effective strategies to make the best use of social media and grow your brand.
