Created to help aging services providers learn more about alcohol and medication misuse and mental health problems in older adults and to help them address these issues more effectively.

It is only a heart that is connected to God that can be connected to real life. There is no life outside God. Disconnection from God means total loss of every good thing that God has to offer. The Bible says very clearly that you were created for connections. Life is all about connections! Who are you connected to? Christianity is not just a belief system; it's a belong system. There are only two ways to get into a family: You can either be born into it, or you can be adopted into it. God does both for you! God created us to be part of his family. Learn how to connect and live the joyful life you were meant to live. Being spiritually connected is like being attached to a vine. In plants, a disconnected branch can't bear fruit. You are not going to have any fruitfulness or productivity in your life if you exist on your own. "I am the vine; you are the branches. If you remain in me and I in you, you will bear much fruit...;" John 15:5

Reviews the meaning and history of jewelry over time as well as step-by-step instructions for creating beaded bracelets, also known as friendship bracelets. Instructions include how to look for materials, threading the beads and creating a loom.

Glossary, additional resources and index.

I hear Christians everywhere complaining that they feel far away from God or that when they do get connected to him, then they just cannot stay connected to him. I too had spent over twenty years seeking and, at many times, struggling to have that unhindered connection with him so that I can know I am approved and enjoy the abundant life that is meant to be mine. This book is to impart the knowledge he has taught me, and it is meant to open blind eyes. In Isaiah 6:10, we are told that eyes and ears had been closed. Otherwise, God's people would see and hear and be healed. We are in perilous times, and it is God's will to open our eyes so that we can seek him, find him, stay connected to him, and be healed as he pours his Spirit upon all flesh. He says he doesn't want the world to sleep anymore, as mentioned in 1 Thessalonians 5:6, and we are also told that it is due to a lack of knowledge that people perish (Hosea 4:6). Being born again is the first step, but it does not end there. In this book, we see with open eyes the obstacles that come between us and God and gain insight into what his heart and will is and how he is closer than we know so that we can finally have lasting connection.

Alcohol and medication misuse and mental health conditions can be significant problems for older adults. Our growing life expectancy, coupled with the aging of the baby boom generation make the need to address these issues more critical than ever before. As with other age groups, by preventing these problems from occurring in the first place, and by addressing them promptly when they do arise, we can enhance the lives and health of millions of older Americans. The Get Connected Toolkit was created to help health and aging services providers learn more about alcohol and medication misuse and mental health conditions in older adults so they can address these issues more effectively. It has been designed to help health and aging services providers undertake health promotion, advance prevention messages and education, and undertake screening and referral for mental health conditions and the misuse of alcohol and medications.

Entrepreneurs and business owners of companies of all sizes must understand how to properly network to grow their organizations. Networking isn't like reading a financial statement, where the return on investment (ROI) is the overriding concern in the transaction. Networking involves what Jeff Shavitz likes to refer to as a "return on time" (ROT). Networking uses "time" to cultivate genuine and authentic relationships that eventually nurture into powerful business partnerships - it doesn't just happen overnight. Attending that "networking event" today, which seems like a waste of time, could easily lead to new relationships six months or even a year later, the types of relationships that will carry your enterprise to an entirely new level. Given the enormous opportunities to build relationships and networks using offline and online social media techniques (LinkedIn, Twitter, etc.), it's easier than ever before to build your custom-made network. Learn more from Jeff as he encourages you to get out of your comfort zone - to meet people "not" like you. This THiNKaha book will be your guide to the realization that most powerful asset you have is your network of family, friends, and business associates - it is about relationship building, after all. "Jeff Shavitz on Networking" is part of the THiNKaha series, whose slim and handy books contain 140 well-thought-out AhaMessages. Increase your influence by picking up the Aha Amplifier, and easily share Jeff's quotes on Twitter, Facebook, LinkedIn, and Google+.
