'double brownie points' especially since: * Personal finance can be a very boring subject to learn about. *

Personal finance is not talked about openly in our society (it is like discussing one's underwear in public). Being that personal finances is a hush, hush subject in our society, it probably explains why many people today are living in such pain, embarrassment and shame around their finances. It seems strange when you step back to think about the incredible impact finances can have on our lives, our community and our work. Yet knowing this, we still don't talk about it, we don't take time to learn about it, and frankly, the thought of doing so can give many of us the shiver me timbers. Why do I know all this? I use to be one of "those people" who: * Didn't talk about my finances. * Didn't have time to learn about it * Didn't have any inclination to learn about it. (Just between you and me, I would have been horrified at taking a class or reading a book on personal finances. Yuck and double yuck.) Why then am I writing a book about personal finances? Simply put, I never want you to go through the pain, shame, and stress that out of control finances can bring to your life. Sadly, financial struggles are much more common than most people would think. * A shocking 70% of Americans today are living

Financial issues continue to be the number one cause of divorce. Most people think financial disaster will never happen to them. I know we sure didn't. Our world was turned upside down when we experienced it. It wasn't long ago that my family went through a very painful time in our lives where we found ourselves emotionally and financially devastated. It seemed like literally overnight we found ourselves drowning in debt and living a life full of fear, embarrassment and shame. We spent many hours stressing about money and had many sleepless nights. Fast forward to today, and our family now lives with peace, joy, happiness, and financial abundance. We no longer worry about debt collectors calling our home, unexpected bills lurking in our mailbox, or how we are going to pay for our groceries. I am proud to say that even with four kids and putting our family first, in just three years we have:

- * Paid off over $150,000 worth of debt.
- * Paid over $30,000 worth of medical related expenses.
- * Learned how to live beyond rich using simple and easy steps that we can now do in about 5 minutes each day. Think you can't learn how to get a handle on your finances? Well you can. If a person like me who HATED the word budget and who MAYBE checked their bank accounts once a year can learn how to get a handle on their finances, YOU can too. This blunt, to the point, no nonsense book will show you how to get your finances under control and get you on the path to living with peace and joy in your finances. The best part is, you only have to spend 5 minutes a day working on your finances with the simple and easy

Having a good relationship with money is tough—whether you have millions in the bank or just a few bucks to your name. Why? Because just like any other relationship, your life with money has its ups and downs, its twists and turns, its breakups and makeups. And just like other relationships, living happily with money really comes down to love—which is why love is the basis of money maven Kate Northrup's book. After taking the Money Love Quiz to see where on the spectrum your relationship with money stands—somewhere between "on the outs" and "it's true love!"—Northrup takes you on a rollicking ride to a better understanding of yourself and adult the gift of financial literacy and they will thank you for a lifetime. I am sure you have heard a few of these: "I don't need it", "I'm too young", "I need to spend my money on _____", and the list goes on.

The pizza model for learning personal finance breaks down those barriers because, well, everyone loves pizza! Just because money management is extremely important doesn't mean that it has to be extremely complex. I Want More Pizza leaves them in complete control to find the plan that works for your young adult - it's their choice. If they don't enjoy math or don't like to plan, no problem,

When it comes to money management, most of us take a hands-off approach because we're just not confident that we have the know-how needed. But personal finance is actually more personal than it is finance. Tim Maurer has made a career out of distilling complex financial concepts into understandable, doable actions. In this eminently practical book, he shows readers how to - better understand their values and goals in order to simplify their money decisions - budget major expenses intelligently - reduce and eliminate debt -

“ Humorous and forthright...[Gaby] Dunn makes facing money issues seem not only palatable but possibly even fun....Dunn ’ s book delivers. ” —Publishers Weekly The beloved writercomedian expands on her popular podcast with an engaging and empowering financial literacy book for Millennials and Gen Z. In the first episode of her “ Bad With Money ” podcast, Gaby Dunn asked patrons at a coffee shop two questions: First, what ’ s your favorite sex position? Everyone was game to answer, even the barista. Then, she asked how much money was in their bank accounts. People were aghast.

“That ’ s a very personal question, ” they insisted. And therein lies the problem. Dunn argues that our inability to speak honestly about money is our #1 barrier to understanding it, leading us to feel alone, ashamed and anxious, which in turns makes us feel even more overwhelmed by it. In Bad With Money, she reveals the legitimate, systemic reasons behind our feeling of helplessness when it comes to personal finance, demystifying the many signposts on the road to getting our financial sh*t together, like how to choose an insurance plan or buy a car, sign up for a credit card or take out student loans. She speaks directly to her audience, offering advice on how to make that #freelancelife work for you, navigate money while you date, and budget without becoming a Nobel-winning economist overnight. Even a topic as notoriously dry as money becomes hilarious and engaging in the hands of Dunn, who weaves her own stories with the perspectives of various comedians, artists, students, and more, arguing that—even without selling our bodies to science or suffering the indignity of snobby thrift shop buyers—we can all start taking control of our financial futures.
