Garrett escaped the death threat from his family, but the Texas Panhandle is where he may be at the end of any hope. After being thrown out by his parents, Garrett's planned escape ended when the last of his money landed him in a tiny West Texas town with no more resources than a backpack with his entire worldly goods and the change in his pocket. He huddles behind a dumpster to avoid the broiling noonday heat. As the sun moves below its apex, one of the workers from the convenience store tosses a few bags of food past its prime into the dumpster and Garrett is soon surrounded by the scent. His hunger overcomes his caution and Garrett takes advantage of a distraction to slip into the trash and snag the food. Garrett finds himself threatened by a group of locals when he discovers the bags hold more than stale burritos. Trevor, the manager of the regional farmers' co-op, rescues him before he goes to jail. A day later, after a hot shower, fresh clothes and a full stomach, Garrett is excited to have a possible solution to his problem. When pieces disappear from an unusual collection of jewelry, Garrett and Trevor team up to find the actual thief.

When the landlady from hell becomes the one woman he can't live without... Kicked off a movie set, actress Savannah Payne flees to her vacation house in Bounty Bay to prepare for the audition of a lifetime. Only a stubborn, sexy lawyer is currently renting it and he won't budge an inch. Not even when she uses every weapon in her arsenal to drive him out of his mind. But all's fair in love and war, including his kisses that make her want to surrender. Glen Cooper needs a distraction-free month to finish writing his first novel and he's found the perfect spot. As a lawyer he knows his legal rights, and the self-absorbed woman who doesn't remember the night he once saved her won't weaken his resolve. Too bad he's fighting a battle of attraction that he just can't win. With Savannah returning soon to Hollywood, could falling in love could be the truce needed for her to stay?

A Little Book on Making Big Decisions

Come back to Burton, and fall in love in a small town all year long . . . Eleven holiday-themed, stand-alone romances that take place in Burton, Georgia, the small town that's big on romance! Alexandria When my agent arranges a fake engagement for me with Matt Westin, the hot new country singer, it doesn't seem like a bad idea. He needs the publicity, and as an actress on the verge of making it big, I need to be seen in a stable relationship. But when we visit his hometown for Valentine's Day, suddenly I find myself wishing Matt's feelings and passionate words were the real deal. Matt I've known love, and I've known heartbreak. I don't recommend either. But my publicity firm wants me to have a serious girlfriend to go with my love songs, so I'm in the middle of a phony and temporary engagement. It's actually not a bad deal: Alex is fun, and spending time with her isn't a hardship. Until we go back to my hometown so I can play a Valentine's Day show . . . and everything I've been pretending feels all too genuine. A Year of Love in a Small Town is a grouping of stand-alone, small-town steamy romances. While the books all take place in Burton, the setting of the Love in a Small Town series, they can be read without having enjoyed the other series.

Six sweet, clean, and wholesome billionaire romance stories in one boxed set. These billionaires fall in love in the small towns they come from or the small towns they adopt as their own. When the billionaire meets his soulmate, a small town becomes a magical place to fall in love. Second chances, bachelor auctions, enemies to more, beach romance and more! Fall in love with these wonderful couples and join them on their sweet journeys to find their true loves.

A Place to Call Home When Reed Hamilton arrives in Lake Endwell for a family wedding, he expects to do his part as best man then head back to the big city. But when a a tornado postpones the wedding, the town is in shambles and Reed is injured. Thankfully maid of honor Claire Sheffield offers him one of her cottages to recuperate in. Dedicated to her family and her dream job at the zoo, Claire is all about roots. She's this city slicker's opposite, yet as they help the town rebuild, Reed is captivated by her stunning looks and caring ways. He can't ask Claire to leave the life she loves for him, but he also can't imagine ever leaving her behind...

It's hard times in the city and the threat of the poor house looms heavy for many living in the overcrowded tenement blocks. Taking the strong advice from his Father John Allinson, Isaac Allinson along with Nancy his six year old daughter take to the road to seek a better life. Having taken the ferryboat across the water they make for the hamlet of Danesrest in search of a long lost aunt. When they become lost on the open moorland a tribe of Romany's gives them help and hospitality. But things begin to take an unexpected turn of events including a lost and forbidden love affair, family secrets coming to light and an eventual wrongful imprisonment where Nancy is forced to endure the harsh and appalling conditions of the early nineteenth century prison.

From New York Times bestselling author Diane Chamberlain comes a novel of chilling intrigue, a decades-old disappearance, and one woman's quest to find the truth... "A novel about arts and secrets...grippingly told...pulls readers toward a shocking conclusion."—People magazine, Best New Books North Carolina, 2018: Morgan Christopher's life has been derailed. Taking the fall for a crime she did not commit, her dream of a career in art is put on hold—until a mysterious visitor makes her an offer that will get her released from prison immediately. Her assignment: restore an old post office mural in a sleepy southern town. Morgan knows nothing about art restoration, but desperate to be free, she accepts. What she finds under the layers of grime is a painting that tells the story of madness, violence, and a conspiracy of small town secrets. North Carolina, 1940: Anna Dale, an artist from New Jersey, wins a national contest to paint a mural for the post office in Edenton, North Carolina. Alone in the world and in great need of work, she accepts. But what she doesn't expect is to find herself immersed in a town where prejudices run deep, where people are hiding secrets behind closed doors, and where the price of being different might just end in murder. What happened to Anna Dale? Are the clues hidden in the decrepit mural? Can Morgan overcome her own demons to discover what exists beneath the layers of lies? "Chamberlain, a master storyteller, keeps readers hooked, with a story line that leavens history and social commentary with romance and mystery."—Lexington Dispatch parent since the death of his wife, and he certainly has no desire to return to Bluestone. But he needs a place for his son, a place where he can be with family, while Leo does his job. He'll stay long enough to get Max settled, then go back to work. School counselor Trinity Madison watches Leo struggle with his son, trying to overcome the mental barricade she's erected against the man who sent his son away when he's proven incapable of caring for the child. The situation brings about her own unsettled feelings about giving her child up for adoption when she was young. But as she observes Leo's difficulties, his sacrifices, she softens toward the man. While he's in town, he ends up working with some old friends. Trinity on a committee to revitalize Bluestone. The former resort town is struggling and looking for ways to bring tourists back. Leo finds himself charmed, then smitten with the feisty counselor, but will he still love her when he learns her secret? Waltz Back to Texas (Lost in a Boy's World Book 1) After growing up in a dying town, with only two restaurants, no movie theater, and no future, waitress Cassidy Simon wants out. Once, luck is on her side when the oil boom comes to South Texas. She's determined to use it for her advantage, starting up an RV park to attract oilfield workers to add to her escape fund. She's never been out of Texas, and she's itching for adventure. Grady McKenna couldn't get away from his family's ranch fast enough when he was a teenager, but a tour in the Air Force in the Middle East is enough to convince him to leave a place like home. He's seen the world, had his adventure. Now he's ready to contribute to his family's legacy in Evansville. Naturally, the woman who draws his attention is the one intent on slipping through his fingers. How can he convince her life with him will be all the adventure she needs? The Love I Want to Be In (The Off-Season Book 1) Single mother Brioney Mayburn has learned about responsibility the hard way, working as a maid in the motel in the small beach town of Avalon Island, Texas and looking after her younger brother. Local jack-of-all-trades Blue Maddox was her sister's high school boyfriend, but stayed behind when she went off to college. He's now drawn to Brioney, admiring her drive, her determination to give her daughter the best life she can. But will Brioney look past his beach-bum facade to see who he really is? Welcome to the small town of Harland Creek! Heartwarming romance, secrets and drama, and compelling characters in this special collection of the first three novels of the series, including a bonus novella! PROMISE KEPT Such a hopeful and beautiful read~Reviewer Lying on her back application wasn't the best way to kick off her fresh start in a small town, but Heather Smith is out of options. She desperately needs a place to live, she will soon be without a place to live. Now, if she could just figure out why a local farmer keeps casting suspicious glares her way... S. Grayson McCade has his hands full with his farm. The second he learns a newcomer has been hired to care for Elizabeth, he worries the kind-hearted old woman is being scammed. Will the secrets revealed tarnish Heather's new start before it even begins? PROMISE MADE Beautifully written~reviewer Olivia McCade prefers flowers to people. Other than the occasional thorn poke, she figures plants are far less likely to hurt her. It was that realization that caused her to leave her nursing career behind and settle into the calming aromas of her flower shop. That worked great... until a huge wedding contract put her face to face with the man who broke her heart and shattered her dreams. Needing support at her side to help her through this, Olivia turns to Sam Hunter. But Sam has a secret all his own. Now, as she looks to him for comfort, she must find a way to juggle her fragile heart and his own stirring emotions. PROMISE FOREVER Wonderfully written!~reviewer Growing up in Harland Creek, Gabriela Jackson was the girl all the guys wanted and all the girls wanted to be. Until one tragic night that rocks the entire town and leaves her the object of scorn. Unable to stay in a place where the entire town hates her, she signs a modeling contract with an elite agency just to get away. She soon discovered the darker side of beauty. After refusing to compromise her morals, she's labeled as difficult and black balled in the industry. With nowhere else to turn, she returns to Harland Creek. But her homecoming is far from warm. Judgmental neighbors, incessant gossip behind her back. Hurtful preconceived notions. Now, more than ever, Gabriela is determined to prove only she can define herself as she is as a person. Harland Creek seemed the perfect place to open a book store, and focus on penning his first novel. Turns out that second part would be if American women weren't falling all over him simply because of his accent. But there is one who seems uninterested in his worldly charm and intoxicating beauty with razor sharp wit, striking intelligence and a damaged reputation. But are they willing to risk it all for a chance at happiness? CHRISTMAS IN HARLAND CREEK Charming Christmas Story!~reviewer Christmas magic comes to Harland Creek! Ever the introverted bookworm, Eliza Ross has read many love stories set to a backdrop of sleigh bells and snow flurries. But turning the pages of her favorite authors' latest release is the closest she's ever come to that kind of romance. Convinced it would be yet another holiday full of Christmas sweaters and family gatherings, Eliza takes a break from her college courses and ventures home to the small town of Harland. Little does she know more than tinsel and holly berries await her there. For as long as she can remember, Eliza has had a crush on Jake. Not that he even knew she existed... or so she thought. Yet when a winter storm traps them together, they learn they have more in common than Eliza ever could have imagined. While the weather outside is frightful, seeing the softer side of Jake is truly delightful. Will the blinding snow open their eyes to the magical connection between them?

Life is full of tough calls and daunting decisions. The question isn't if you'll face a big decision in the future, but how you'll face the tough one that's guaranteed to come your way. Think about it. There are wedding proposals to ponder, college applications to submit, career moves to make, homes to sell, and confrontations to consider. And, knowing how poorly things could go, we sometimes find ourselves facing these decisions with a deep fear of future regret. The pressure is on. Or is it? Short and straightforward, yet full of practical insight and spiritual truths, Tough Call will help you see that the Christian faith offers a mindset to confidently and joyfully make your next big decision. More importantly you'll see how you can face life with your fears recognized, your peace maximized, and your hope anchored in something greater than your ability to "get it done." Readers familiar with authors like Acuff, Chan, and Tchividjian will resonate with Matt Popovits's witty, practical, and gospel-centered take on these complicated topics. Tough Call is an enjoyable and essential read for any and all facing a major decision. her fiancé issued an ultimatum: come home and marry him, or lose him forever. Eight years later, Lieutenant Lynn Johnston returns to her small Kentucky hometown with a secret to keep and a desire to find peace. Her planned lifelong career had been cut short by events beyond her control. Now, she hoped that she could forge a new path, one that would heal her heart and help to put her past behind her. Those hopes are dashed when she discovers Carter Mathis, her former fiancé, has also returned and is raising his two young sons. Lynn must decide if she can deal with not only the old hurt feelings from the past -- and Carter's soon-to-be ex who has a vendetta against Lynn-- to give Carter a second chance. A deadly collapse at the coal mines where Carter works, an accident that rocks the town, could possibly take the choice out of her hands. Does she confront her feelings and move forward, or leave the life she's always wanted behind? When Love Comes Home The summer before she left for college, Kari Nelson had the world in the palm of her hand. She was on her way out of her small hometown and out from under the thumbs of her controlling parents. But more importantly, she was in love for the first time. That summer would change her life forever. Years after returning home unexpectedly, Kari is no longer a naive and hopeful teenager. She's a grown woman who has been married and divorced, and is now a single mother who balances running a respectable business while also raising her daughter. The daughter Marc Eaddens, the boy she'd loved all those summers ago, didn't know he had. That boy is now a man who's returned to town to take over the family business from his ailing father. Sparks fly and tensions rise when he discovers the truth about the girl in Kari's life. Will he forgive Kari for keeping her secret - and his daughter - to herself? And can the two of them come together for their child...and themselves? City Boy, Southern Girl Growing up in a small town, Sarah Wright knew city boy Jake Ryland was going to be trouble the minute she saw him. In order to help a friend, Jake moved from his home in the city - with its vast amounts of entertainment options and women - to a small town in the middle of nowhere. Accustomed to the fast-paced life he loved, life now seemed to move as slow as the molasses the South was known for. Until he met Sarah. Sarah knew Jake's stay in town was temporary and did her best not to be drawn in by his charm and good looks. And after a disastrous first date, she thought she was safe. Little did she know... As their relationship builds, so does their chemistry...and their feelings for one another. Do they try to find a way to make it work, even though they come from different worlds? Or do they walk away now and wonder what might have been? To Love Again She'd married her high school sweetheart at a young age, and thought they would have the happily ever after she'd always dreamed of. But a tragic accident would shatter those dreams. Now, years after her husband's sudden death, her world revolves around her daughters. She has a job she loves and life-long friends who are more like sisters. She has learned to be content in her life. There was no way for her to know there is a man who would upset the balance she has so carefully created. One who would make her feel all the things she'd forgotten she could feel. A man who pined for her, but has his own issues and past to overcome. Can Bethany allow herself to let go of the past, and the guilt she feels at the thought of moving on with her life? Will her children - and her heart - allow her to embrace a new future? Or is she headed for heartbreak once more?

Burned out from her social work career, Sally Hopkins takes on an investigative job for her sheriff uncle in east Texas, a case involving a series of arsons and animal killings that suggest the work of a budding serial murderer.

Children will love to discover what is hiding on the pull-the-tab sliders. Rhyming text adds to the fun and encourages playful interaction. Perfect for adults and children age three and up to discover together, this title is sure to become a firm family favorite.

Have you ever wondered: What it's like to daily bet hundreds of thousands of dollars working for some of the largest professional gamblers in Las Vegas? ... How to spend a summer house sitting one of the biggest stars in the world's 11,000 square-foot mansion - without an invitation from it's celebrity owner ... Whether the life of crime - specifically, running a shoplifting ring in a middle American mall - pays? ... What causes a son to finally say enough is enough ... and decide "Today is the day I am going to kill my dad." Comedian Brandt Tobler has the answers in this funny, touching and sometimes downright unbelievable memoir of a small town Wyoming-kid turned "mall-fia" don, turned nationally touring comic. Brand tells his life story with candor, detailing the many pit stops, wrong turns, crazy connections and lucky breaks he experienced along the way to his comedy career, all while trying to balance a toxic relationship with his unreliable jailbird dad. In these pages Brandt will make you laugh (he better - it's his job!) and believe as he does that, when it comes to defining family, blood isn't always thicker than water. -- back cover.
