

was a teenager, but a tour in the Air Force in the Middle East is enough to convince him there's no place like home. He's seen the world, had his adventure. Now he's ready to contribute to his family's legacy in Evansville. Naturally, the woman who draws his attention is the one intent on slipping through his fingers. How can he convince her life with him will be all the adventure she needs? That Wild Texas Swing Liz Salazar has a reputation for being wild, and it's well-earned. But as a stylist, with her own shop on the square. But when the handsome young mayor shows interest in Liz, that's a different story. Suddenly everyone has an opinion, and none of them are positive. Killian Dawson has always toed the line. He continued his father's legacy by running for mayor, and is leading the town of Evansville through the changes brought about by the oil boom. His one rebellion is his interest in Liz Salazar. He's had a crush on her for years, and he's ready to make his move, but the more time he spends with her, the more he knows she's the one for him. And she is ready to change her ways, but not until after taking him on a wild Texas swing. Two Step Temptation Sage McKenna likes to be in charge. In fact, without her as the driving force, the town of Evansville, Texas, wouldn't be undergoing such a transformation. She's the one steering the revitalization of downtown, keeping her fingers in as many pies as she can reach—renovating shops on the busy night and day, unwilling to give up control of any of her ventures. She certainly has no time for love. Musician Flynn Tscheulin is trying to build a name for himself, playing his music at small bars across Texas, following his dream. The Sagebrush Saloon in Evansville still smells of sawdust when he pulls in for his three-night commitment. The uptight blonde who runs the place is nothing like he expected, and he'd love to delve beneath her cool exterior and find her inner fire. On his own, he has a future they'd envisioned. Can they make room for each other? The Cowboy's Promenade Single mother Juliana Kendrick moves to Texas when her soldier husband is killed. With no family of her own, she is welcomed and absorbed into the family of his best friend, Grady McKenna. A year has passed, and she's as much a part of Evansville, Texas, as any of the McKennas. She's running his sister Sage's bed and breakfast, is involved in the school, and is falling in love with rancher Trace. He's ready to take his daughter hundreds of miles away. He doesn't want his daughter to live with his flighty ex and her shady new husband, and feels his only choice is to marry to win custody. He can't think of a better candidate than Juliana. But he's so scarred by the whole divorce, he knows he can never love again. Can Juliana remind him how to find happiness?

What I find the most hurtful and the hardest, is liking someone only to have them fall in love with my younger and prettier sister. Or have guys befriend and pretend to be kind to me so that they can get close to her. It truly hurts knowing I'm being used for someone else's goals. However, I would never blame her for any of this, for it's not her fault that the guys I liked loved her instead. I've just come to realize that not everyone is meant to fall in love, and I might be one of those who can't. I've had to live with the past my weight and insecurities, and not fall in love with my baby sister at the same time. ***** Erin has always been the ugly sister and the black sheep of the family. She grew up in a world of perfection, and yet she was far from perfect. If she was flawless as her sister, then all the men she ever had feelings for would have chosen her instead. Erin has learned the hard way that sometimes love isn't meant for everyone. Because of that, she decided to dedicate her time and life to her own goals. She's every girl's wet dream. He's tall, rich, and sexy as hell. Which also means he's way out of her league. Erin knows that she will never match someone as perfect as him, but her sister certainly will. Playing cupid, Erin hopes to hook Caden up with her sister. But what happens when Caden has his eyes set on only one person, Erin.
