Absolute Zero, or -459.67 degrees

Get Free Absolute Zero

Fahrenheit, is the lowest possible temperature possible. Producing absolute zero under laboratory conditions has been a Holy Grail of physics for years. Zeke thinks he's found a way to produce absolute zero. If he succeeds, his name will stand with such greats as Newton and Einstein, presuming it doesn't unravel the fabric of the universe—a possibility Zeke must consider. Despite warnings, Zeke isn't convinced. As a physicist, he knows attempting to alter history creates a serious time paradox. But the future Zeke's comrades, the time-manipulating Chronologists, seem to take a cavalier approach to time manipulation, despite claiming they're working for the betterment of mankind. Adrift in a reality

where linear events and sentience are mutable concepts, Zeke needs to judge for himself whether his future can be trusted, or if he should risk the very universe in his quest for Absolute Zero.

Zeke is a fan of authors Kurt Vonnegut, Nora Roberts, James Patterson, Stephen King, John Grisham, and Dr Hayden Tameron. I chose this topic because the 'absolute' of anything requires no explanation because it is-what it is forever more. This subject taken from various math courses led me to believe that all things never seen or experienced doesn't mean they don't exist. For what we can only touch, hear, feel or see isn't the absence of 'absolute, ' but the reckoning of what could be if we try and imagine. No fictional piece can be written without your imagination! Step out and find your 'authentic' self

On one of the coldest nights in Minnesota history, the difference between life and death is literally the blink of an eye for Phil Broker, until recently St. Paul's most successful unrepentant pimp. For Broker it all began when he agreed to take three big-city professionals on a canoeing trip across Minnesota's most remote lakes. One of the three is horribly injured in a freak October blizzard, and Broker embarks on a white-knuckle rescue against time and the

Ending Zero Tolerance answers the calls of grassroots communities pressing for integration and increased education funding with a complete rethinking of school discipline. In the era of zero tolerance, we are flooded with stories about schools issuing draconian punishments for relatively innocent behavior. One student was suspended for chewing a Pop-Tart into the shape of a gun. Another was expelled for cursing on social media from home. Suspension and expulsion

rates have doubled over the past three decades as zero tolerance policies have become the normal response to a host of minor infractions that extend well beyond just drugs and weapons. Students from all demographic groups have suffered, but minority and special needs students have suffered the most. On average, middle and high schools suspend one out of four African American students at least once a year. The effects of these policies are devastating. Just one suspension in the ninth grade doubles the likelihood that a student will drop out.

Get Free Absolute Zero

Fifty percent of students who drop out are subsequently unemployed. Eighty percent of prisoners are high school drop outs. The risks associated with suspension and expulsion

are so high that, as a practical matter, they amount to educational death penalties, not behavioral correction tools. Most important, punitive discipline policies

undermine the quality of education that innocent bystanders receive as well—the exact opposite of what schools intend. Derek Black, a former attorney with the Lawyers' Committee
