Jean-Micheal Cousteau shares his many experiences with orcas. From Iceland, Jean-Michel tells the true story of the orca Keiko from the film "Free Willy." In New Zealand, we'll meet Ingrid, a local biologist, who saves a stranded female orca.

A history of the Korean War with soldier's-eye views from both sides, by the Pulitzer Prize-winning author of The Rising Sun and Infamy. Pulitzer Prize-winning author John Toland reports on the Korean War in a revolutionary way in this thoroughly researched and riveting book. Toland pored over military archives and was the first person to gain access to previously undisclosed Chinese records, which allowed him to investigate Chairman Mao's direct involvement in the conflict. Toland supplements his captivating history with in-depth interviews with more than two hundred American soldiers, as well as North Korean, South Korean, and Chinese combatants, plus dozens of poignant photographs, bringing those who fought to vivid life and honoring the memory of those lost. In Mortal Combat is comprehensive in its discussion of events deemed controversial, such as American brutality against Korean civilians and allegations of American use of biological warfare. Toland tells the dramatic account of the Korean War from start to finish, from the appalling experience of its POWs to Mao's prediction of MacArthur's Inchon invasion. Toland's account of the "forgotten war" is a must-read for any history aficionado.

Lieutenant Jon-Michael Havard is a Texas Ranger. Jon-Michael's family has a long, illustrious legacy of serving the people of Texas, dating back to the Texas Revolution. His grandfather died in the jungles of Vietnam, serving as an officer in the United States Army. His great-grandfather fought in WWII. Jon's great-great-grandfather fought in WWI and served as a Texas Ranger until the organization was temporarily disbanded. Jon-Michael's most famous ancestor was Jeremiah Lewis Havard, Sam Houston's original 'Lone Ranger.' Jon-Michael Havard is investigating a mass murder of 23 members of a Harley-Davidson, social riding club in Angelina County. The 23 victims lay dead along a Lake Sam Rayburn campground road nicknamed the 'Kill-Zone.' The murder is the final act in a long series of Crimes of Passion. Ranger Havard is assigned to the case by the Governor of Texas. He leads a task force in pursuit of the killer. This book is filled with mystery, intrigue, murder, romance, and drama. All the elements of a good read are incorporated in the pages of this novel set in the piney woods of East Texas.

Memoirs of a Removal Man

With Extracts from Some of Her Letters

Indulge in a series of perfectly imperfect poetic entries expressing the journey of making it through a period of transformation. Allow the transparency of this journey spark conversations addressing traumas, healing, mental health, ownership, and self progression. The transparency of one's shortcomings can build a community of love and unity. Thus to open a common ground of vulnerability to show the luminous beauty we all possess from within.

I'm sitting on a rocky island, gazing on the horizon of hopes and dreams. Emptiness and resentment oozing from their seam. In this moment, my worries cease to exist. Their envy, magnified like particles projected through bifocals. I wince as they whinge, retreating inside my bubble of certainty. Relieved and determined to live in peace. I wrote this journal, a book of poetry for you. Let your eyes hang on every word. Let my retrograde chaos bring tears and laughter that cleanse your soul. Most importantly, enjoy.

Moving houses has been likened to death and divorce in the list of most stressful experiences. Graham Willis delves into his diaries for funny, horrendous and sometimes heartbreaking stories of moving home over the last 30 years. Memoirs of a Removal Man is a tribute to all the hardworking men and women he has worked with and is a must-read for everyone who has ever moved home.
