From the Nobel Prize-winning author of Thinking, Fast and Slow and the coauthor of Nudge, a revolutionary exploration of why people make bad judgments and how to make better ones—"a tour de force" (New York Times). Imagine that two doctors in the same city give different diagnoses to identical patients—or that two judges in the same courthouse give markedly different sentences to people who have committed the same crime. Suppose that different interviewers at the same firm make different decisions about indistinguishable job applicants—or that when a company is handling customer complaints, the resolution depends on who happens to answer the phone. Now imagine that the same doctor, the same judge, the same interviewer, or the same customer service agent makes different decisions depending on whether it is morning or afternoon, or Monday rather than Wednesday. These are examples of noise: variability in judgments that should be identical. In Noise, Daniel Kahneman, Olivier Sibony, and Cass R. Sunstein show the detrimental effects of noise in many fields, including medicine, law, economic forecasting, forensic science, bail, child protection, strategy, performance reviews, and personnel selection. Wherever there is judgment, there is noise. Yet, most of the time, individuals and organizations alike are unaware of it. They neglect noise. With a few simple remedies, people can reduce both noise and bias, and so make far better decisions. Packed with original ideas, and offering the same kinds of research-based insights that made Thinking, Fast and Slow and Nudge groundbreaking New York Times bestsellers, Noise explains how and why humans are so susceptible to noise in judgment—and what we can do about it.

Do you need to get more work as an independent adjuster? Are you just starting out and have zero experience? Are you interested in working property and/or auto claims? Are you an introvert and get nervous when talking to people? Then this book is for you.

Part 1: The Principles of the Networking Adjuster's Playbook you'll never see the principles behind great networkers including a case study of a young adjuster who broke into the property adjusting field without any experience. Learn how you can apply it in your independent adjusting career.

Part 2: The Playbook includes a proven series of emails that works for even the most introvert of IA's. Our case study and co-author Kagan Blackburn reveals what he did and how he did it. I helped him turn it into a templated series of emails that you can use when contacting IA Firms. Never wonder what to say or when to say it, we've got you covered. Together, along with our proven process, make up what we call the IA Networking Machine. The five emails included are called, The Baited Intro Investigative Probe, Custom Response, Hey, Can I Help?, Surprise Visit.

Part 3: The Practice provides a way to document your contact with IA Firms, write down contact information, notes, and the ability to create a networking system for up to 50 IA Firms inside of the book.

Reviews for the Networking Adjuster's Playbook "Starting your career as an Independent Adjuster, the focus is on the technical aspects. Obviously, this is a crucial base, but assignments need to come through the door to show those technical skills in action. Networking is the pipeline to getting those assignments. Sure we can find courses and books on business networking, but they don't necessarily correlate to the adjusting field. We can find resources for specifics of adjusting, but those lack the nuances of building and maintaining relationships within our adjusting network. "Networking Adjuster's Playbook" is THE resource that blends these two worlds. This book breaks down the "what" and the "how" of networking for an adjuster in an easy, step-by-step manual that is loaded with additional resources." – John Bachman #1 Claims Guy on YouTube "To say to all adjusters, new and seasoned, that Networking Adjusters Playbook is a must-read, is a gross understatement. The tips, tricks, and ideas contained within are spot on. If you are an independent adjuster and you don't follow the Playbook's advices, you are going to leave money on the table." – David Milton CEO of Telaclaims "Success as an adjuster can be boiled down to "who you know", performance, and customer service. The Networking Adjuster's Playbook uses case studies, an actionable process, and time management tools to incorporate them under the umbrella of networking. At the end of the day, networking is about taking a contact (Warm or Cold) and following through until it is producing claims. . . . .and then MORE claims. The MORE claims is the secret sauce to success. Most adjusters think they are networking, but this book shows what to do, how to do it, and how to monitor progress to make sure we stay on track and we're seeing results." - Adam Painter host of the AdjusterShow

We all tell white lies to others and, even worse, to ourselves. We do something wrong and instead of acknowledging it, learning from it, and moving on, we lie, saying it was due to circumstances outside ourselves. Each one should test his own actions. Then he can take pride in himself, without comparing himself to somebody else, for each one should carry his own load. Gal. 6:45 NIV Genesis 3:12 NIV, The man said, The woman you put here with meshe gave me some fruit from the tree, and I ate it. As long as there has been a record of man, humans have chosen to blame someone else for their wrongdoings. For you and me, it does not have to be that way. We can change and take responsibilities for our own actions.

Conventional wisdom today says that to survive, companies must move beyond incremental, sustaining innovation and invest in some form of radical innovation. "Disrupt yourself or be disrupted!" is the relentless message company leaders hear. The Power of Little Ideas argues there's a "third way" that is neither sustaining nor disruptive. This low-risk, high-reward strategy is an approach to innovation that all company leaders should understand so that they recognize it when their competitors practice it, and apply it when it will give them a competitive advantage. This distinctive approach has three key elements: It consists of creating a family of complementary innovations around a product or service, all *of which work together to make that product more appealing and competitive. The complementary innovations work together as a system to carry out a single strategy or purpose. Crucially, unlike disruptive or radical innovation, innovating around a key product does not change the central product in any fundamental way. In this powerful, practical book, Wharton professor David Robertson illustrates how many well-known companies, including CarMax, GoPro, LEGO, Gatorade, Disney, USAA, Novo Nordisk, and many others, used this approach to stave off competitive threats and achieve great success. He outlines the organizational practices that unintentionally torpedo this approach to innovation in many companies and shows how organizations can overcome those challenges. Aimed at leaders seeking strategies for sustained innovation, and at the quickly growing numbers of managers involved with creating new products, The Power of Little Ideas provides a logical, organic, and enduring third way to innovate.*
