*This textbook has been written so that a very thorough introduction to accounting is covered in two volumes. The split into two volumes is made in recognition of the fact that many students will find all that they require in the first volume. This textbook on book-keeping and accounting continues to provide indispensable introduction for students and professionals across the globe. In the 13th edition all topics have been fully updated. This includes key areas such as computerised accounting and banking, as well as accounting concepts and assumptions. With a brand new Chapter 2 on double-entry, and more than 100 new review questions and activities, this edition contains all you need to understand and consolidate the key concepts in accounting. *-Publisher.

For a first-year graduate-level course on nonlinear systems. It may also be used for self-study or reference by engineers and applied mathematicians. The text is written to build the level of mathematical sophistication from chapter to chapter. It has been reorganized into four parts: Basic analysis, Analysis of feedback systems, Advanced analysis, and Nonlinear feedback control.

This new edition of Frank Wood's A-Level Accounting has been brought up-to-date with the latest syllabus changes and developments in the field. It covers the more advanced aspects of the syllabus and builds on a first-course in the subject, tackling the more advanced aspects of company accounting such as group accounts, and the basics of management accounting. As well as providing instruction and practice in the preparation of accounting information, the text stresses the need for students to understand the business reasons behind the accountingtechniques. A continuing strength of the book is the large amount of question material provided for practice. Recent past questions from the main examining bodies are included, as well as a useful guide to examination technique at A-Level.

The increasing importance of biomass as a renewable energy source has lead to an acute need for reliable and detailed information on its assessment, consumption and supply. Responding to this need, and overcoming the lack of standardized measurement and accounting procedures, this handbook provides the reader with the skills to understand the biomass resource base, the tools to assess the resource, and explores the pros and cons of exploitation. Topics covered include assessment methods for woody and herbaceous biomass, biomass supply and consumption, remote sensing techniques as well as vital policy issues. International case studies, ranging from techniques for measuring tree volume to transporting biomass, help to illustrate step-by-step methods and are based on field work experience. Technical appendices offer a glossary of terms, energy units and other valuable resource data.

Business Accounting, Volume 1, 4th Edition

This book has been devised to enable students to attain knowledge and understanding in carrying out cash and credit transactions in accounting. It has been structured into a number of parts to enable students to undertake a particular topic to meet their specific needs. Whilst the book centres on the two main topics of Recording and Accounting for Cash and Credit Transactions, other topics, such as Introduction to double entry have been included, since competence is needed in the double entry system of book-keeping when undertaking accounting transactions. Each chapter in the book includes 'Student Activities' to enable students to assess their progress. Practice assessments have been devised to simulate the AAT Central Assessments and the ACCA Multi-choice assessments. These are designed for the student to gain a valuable indication as to their competence and readiness for either the AAT or ACCA assessments. Transaction Accounting for NVQ Level 2 is suitable for students studying the following courses: the Lead Body for Accounting NVQ Level 2, AAT Foundation NVQ Level 2, AAT Diploma in Accounting (for non-UK students), ACCA Accounting Technician Certificate and Edexcel Accounting at NVQ Level 2. It is also ideal for other accounting courses where a basic book-keeping knowledge and understanding is required.
