Jace, Ash, and Gabe, three powerful friends, share everything--even women, but when they meet Bethany, Jace is determined to be the only man in her life, even if it means jeopardizing his lifelong friendships.

Never mix business with pleasure. Never bring politics into the bedroom. In a way I did both when I took Jackson Rutledge as a lover. I can't say I wasn't warned. Two years later, he was back. Walking into a deal I'd worked hard to close. Under the tutelage of Lei Yeung, one of the sharpest businesswomen in New York, I had picked up a thing or two since Jax walked away. I wasn't the girl he once knew, but he hadn't changed. Unlike the last time we'd drifted into each other's lives, I knew exactly what I was dealing with... and how addictive his touch could be. The inner circle of glamour, sex, and privilege was Jax's playground--but this time, I knew the rules of the game. In the cutthroat business world, one adage rules all: keep your enemies close and your ex-lovers closer...

SCHOOL FOR SCANDAL: James Bell, Viscount Ormond, is a shameless rake, infamous for his skills in seduction--and Claire Russell doesn't intend for her sister to become his latest conquest. That is why she's come to the viscount's private masked ball. The flagrant sensuality and unabashed decadence on display there are shocking, but they are nothing compared to the scandalous fire Claire feels when James makes a wholly improper suggestion--improper, indecent, and very, very tempting. MISCHIEF AND THE MARQUESS: Justin, the Marquess of Fontaine and Lady Sophie Milton-Riley have no desire to marry. To satisfy their mothers' insistence that they would be quite right together, they set out to demonstrate how completely ill suited they are for one another. Justin is allergic to her perfume. Sophie dislikes his dogs. He prefers blondes; she, brunette men. But the more they seek to prove how wrong their union would be, the more right things feel. And when opposites attract, there's no denying the sparks or the heat. RUBY KISS: Susannah Fowler is in possession of many temptations--an independent nature, a quick wit, and lush curves. She is also in possession of a fortune in stolen jewels hidden within her favorite corset. If rakehell Carlyle Jameson wants it, he will have to remove it himself. From her boudoir or from her body. One kiss ought to distract her, but one kiss leads to another and another, till there's no turning back and no desire to try.

What the Cat Dragged In

From Sylvia Day, the #1 New York Times bestselling author of the Crossfire novels, comes a novella of the Shadow Stalkers. When Deputy US Marshal Jared Cameron started investigating a series of arson attacks in the small seaside town of Lion's Bay, he had no idea that the biggest blast of heat would come from the fire inspector. Her name was Darcy Michaels—and if there was anyone that Jared wanted to get down and sweaty with, it was Darcy. Darcy knew what she was bringing out in Jared. In fact, she liked it. She reveled in making his dirty dreams come true. Stripped down for a scorching after-hours affair, Jared was her fantasy, too. A hard-driving man who knew exactly what to do to please her. But as hot as their nights were, they had no idea just how wild it was going to get. Because Darcy has a secret. And a past. And it's drawing them right into the flames... Includes an excerpt of Razor's Edge, another Shadow Stalkers novella. On Fire previously appeared in Hot in Handcuffs

Sylvia Day's Captivated by You (Crossfire) Summary & Analysis

Ask For It

Captivated by You: Crossfire Series, Book 4, is built using alternating chapters from the two main characters', Gideon and Eva, first-person perspectives. Captivated by You uses a unique and most refreshing literary device for romance genre, alternating first-person perspectives, which proves emotionally anchoring for the reader and the couple. Also, unlike many other romance flicks, this book attempts to explore and deal with some weightier, real-life issues. The narrative in this book is female focused, as every attention is given to Eva, to let you know about female readership preferences. Our male hero, Gideon, is attentive, rich, good-looking - and (bonus, cherry on top) a gentleman who cooks in the kitchen - not just in bed! Eva and most female readership will resonate with his continual devotion to her, very needy on the love he both gives to and gets from Eva. This is so much so, that the book's title Captivated By You might be better renamed, Can't Live an Hour Without You. (Yes, it's a tongue in cheek title - or at least his tongue in cheek title.) The two main characters are, Gideon, the book's central character, and Eva, the protagonist. Gideon and Eva are professional 20-somethings and painfully needy. Largely, their neediness stems from their abusive sexual pasts. While both characters come from prior dysfunction, they meet their codependent states mostly with boxers down and skirts up. Sex is the glue that holds all chapters together. There is Monday-night sex, early morning sex, wet shower sex, dry sex, make-out sex, weekend sex, after work sex, and sex after sex .... And, yes, this sex starts to wear thin (as likely so do the shelves) by page 10 or 11. However, somewhere between psychosis and gratification, the two seem to truly love one another, as evidenced by the page that garners Gideon's "Angel mine," and reflective poetry. The softness of Gideon's poetic times provide balance to the violent foreshadowing which may be occurring in Day's narrative. Download your copy today! for a limited time discount of $2.99! Eva Trammel, plagued by her own insecurities, is drawn into an intense, obsessive relationship with the wealthy and powerful Gideon Cross. "Gideon Cross came into my life like lightning in the darkness. He was beautiful and brilliant, jagged and dangerous. I was drawn to him as I'd never been to anyone in my life. I craved his touch like a drug, even knowing it would weaken me. He was flawed and damaged, and he opened those cracks in me so easily. Gideon knew. He had demons of his own. And we were the mirrors that reflected each other's most private wounds and desires. The bonds of his love transformed me, even though the torment of our pasts didn't tear us apart."--Back cover.

Nicholas Hunt is the man I hate. For good reason. His opinion of me is tainted by prejudice even before my arrival at his grandmother's estate, and my first impression of him is just as abysmal. His arrogance and icy demeanor make it clear that he is the type of man who's best handled at a distance. Fortunately, space shouldn't be an issue inside this Gilded Age mansion with its gardens. If I stick with the servants and he keeps to his sailboat and vintage Porsche, we should hardly cross paths. Unfortunately, at Rosethorn, I find that all roads eventually lead to Nicholas Hunt. Sparks fly as we spar at the dinner table, words are flung in the shadows of the palatial halls. We hang suspended in our hatred of one another, painfully oblivious to the and tension that build with every moment we're left alone. We're liable to kill one another, I think...right up until my lips and a new feeling grips hold of me: lust. What's worse? He knows it. They say you should keep your enemies close. Nicholas tightens his grip on my waist and draws me near, I'm not sure if it's out of loathing or love. One thing's for sure: I want to find out.

A young widow encounters the man who fueled her dreams for years in this erotic Regency romance by the #1 New York Times bestselling author. Shocked yet titillated, Jessica nevertheless walked down the aisle. Throughout her serene yet unremarkable marriage, Alistair lived in her illicit fantasies. But now fate has left her a childless widow. Meanwhile, Alistair ran far from his disreputable life—and the beautiful debutant he could not have. Now a successful shipping merchant, he has little in common with the man Jessica once knew. But when she steps aboard his ship for a transatlantic passage, seven years' worth of denied pleasures are held in check by nothing more than a few layers of silk. And as they set sail, they finally surrender to overpowering waves of passion. "The book that inspired Bared to You."—Sylvia Day

At this time very few of their good friends know of their real marital status. The novel may be read as a standalone book, but when read as part of the series; it offers a more in-depth reading experience, since there are a number of references to characters and past events from the earlier books. Captivated By You is more than just a romance. It may have sexual and steamy love-making scenes, but that is now part of the genre. A complex story that does not end when the guy gets the girl, it actually starts with the guy getting the girl. It goes on to check out their sexual lives and their psychological fears and needs.

Dominance, the need for power and the underlying sexual longing all have an impact on their relationship. Captivated by You: Crossfire Series, Book 4, is built using alternating chapters from the two main characters', Gideon's and Eva's, first-person perspectives. Captivated by You uses a unique and most refreshing literary device for romance genre, and one which proves emotionally anchoring for the reader and the couple. Also, unlike many other romance flicks, this book attempts to bring in and deal with some weightier, real-life issues. The narrative in this book is female focused, as every attention is given to what we know about female readership preferences. Our male hero, Gideon, is attentive, rich, good-looking - and (bonus, cherry-on-top) yes ladies he cooks in the kitchen - not just in bed! Eva and most female readership will resonate with his continual doting. Gideon is very needy on the love he both gives to and gets from Eva. This is so much so, that the book's title Captivated By You is understated and might be better renamed, Can't Live an Hour Without You. (Yes, it's a tongue in cheek title - or at least his tongue in her cheek(s) title.) The two main characters are, Gideon, the book's central character, and Eva, the protagonist. Gideon and Eva are two professional 20-somethings and painfully needy. Largely, their neediness stems from their abusive sexual pasts. While, both characters come from prior dysfunction, they meet their codependent states mostly with boxers down and skirts up. In this novel, sex is the glue that holds all chapters together. There is Monday-night sex, early morning sex, wet shower sex, dry sex, make-up sex, midday sex, weekend sex, after work sex, and sex after sex .... And, yes, this sex starts to wear thin (as likely so do the sheets) about chapter 10 or 11. However, somewhere between psychosis and gratification, the two seem to truly love one another, as even the primal nature of the page garners Gideon's "Angel mine," and reflective poetry. The softness of Gideon's poetic times provide balance for the violent foreshadowing which may be occurring in Day's narrative. Download your copy today!
