Scout the Scottie dog lives on the top floor of an apartment building. His favorite toy is his shiny red ball. But it is not just an ordinary ball. This ball can bounce higher than anything. It is rounder than anything. And it is faster than anything. Scout loves it. But one day Scout loses his shiny red ball. Where did it go? How will Scout find his favorite toy? On his search for his missing toy, Scout gets some help along the way and he learns that, while his ball is indeed special, it is not as special as his new friends.

Milo and Monty are very different dogs. Monty enjoys hugs and noisy playtimes, but Milo prefers to avoid people and hide in a cosy, quiet space. One day, during a family reunion, Milo finds cousin Henry is hiding in his special space. Like Milo, Henry finds hugs uncomfortable, dislikes loud noises, and has a favourite toy that he takes everywhere. A heartwarming story about family and the small changes we can make to accommodate the needs of others.

The Dog Who Had Kittens

Puggy is back for part two in the Spy Dog's series. Previously in "A Suspicious Neighbor," Puggy saw a news report discussing the disappearances of dogs around the city. Right around that time, Puggy noticed that his next door neighbor did not look like a typical human. He learns later that the man is an alien who is responsible for the disappearances of the animals. The alien was experimenting on the dogs so that they could be modified with advanced technology. Due to a twist of fate, Puggy finds himself modified and it was up to him to stop the alien while making sure his owner Bill doesn't find him out. "Cat's Revenge" begins when Bill comes home one day more excited than what he normally is. The reason for this is because Bill won a cat in a raffle! Unnerved by this, Puggy couldn't do anything but become jealous of the fact that the cat would probably earn more of Bill's attention. When the cat finally does arrive, Puggy is alarmed to see that the cat was the same cat from the alien's house that he had beaten months before. The aliens were back and they were using the cat, who they call Killer, to complete their goals. Puggy is now on the journey to fend off Killer and stop the aliens from acquiring his body, his home, Bill and the entire world. However, Puggy is not alone in this battle because Mannie, his Jack Russell friend, is here to aid his friend. Will the dogs succeed in taking down Killer and the aliens, or will Killer be too much for Puggy to handle?

Things get easier every day. Just watch what I can do today! This affirming story celebrates how baby animals in the forest accomplish goals, whether it's a baby bear finding food, a young spider spinning a web, or a small bird flying from the nest for the first time. The tender, rhyming text compares these achievements to those of a child who is learning to ride his bike or catch a ball. The perfect story to encourage young readers to try new things or keep the faith when faced with challenges, Look What I Can Do! honors the important milestones that children achieve each day. Praise for Look What I Can Do! "Baby animals strive to "stand up strong," leap high and "spin a trap." But learning is full of challenges, distractions and fun.
