The book is aimed to help you prepare well and sharpen your problem-solving skills by practising through numerous questions in these solved papers and face the exam with confidence, successfully.

This edition of "A+ on Aptitude" is made up from a collection of very interesting and challenging aptitude questions with their detailed solutions, which are very important for the aspirants aiming to crack the National Eligibility Test (CSIR-UGC, ICMR etc) for lectureship and research fellowships. The questions are based on what came in previously in the NET exams itself, and from other high-level aptitude exams where abstraction is important. Rote memorization and just practice is inadequate for success in research aptitude. In this book, uncover the secrets to having a grasp of higher-order abstraction and breaking down of a big problem into smaller chunks, and the final naceration so that the problem does not remain. It is a book which shows how successful aspirants think while solving their aptitude questions , while keeping in mind the advantages of questions with options and disadvantages of timed tests. Solving is easy, but what is keeping yourself from an 'A+' ? All the best! The author has qualified the exam at the first year of his Graduate studies with both Lectureship and JRF, and is also a software developer in numerous computing platforms.

Knowledge updating is a never-ending process and so should be the revision of an effective textbook. The book originally written fifty years ago has, during the intervening period, been revised and reprinted several times. The authors have, however, been thinking, for the last few years that the book needed not only a thorough revision but rather a substantial rewriting. They now take great pleasure in presenting to the readers the twelfth, thoroughly revised and enlarged, Golden Jubilee edition of the book. The subject-matter in the entire book has been re-written in the light of numerous criticisms and suggestions received from the users of the earlier editions in India and abroad. The basis of this revision has been the emergence of new literature on the subject, the constructive feedback from students and teaching fraternity, as well as those changes that have been made in the syllabi and/or the pattern of examination papers of numerous universities.
