In Volume 2 of Current Thinking and Research in Brief Therapy
the author's

consideration
of Ericksonian-
influenced
brief therapy
continues.
Presently,
there is a
concern among those in the
psychotherapy
profession who
worry that this
area of science

will become heartless.

Others are equally
concerned that
their hearts
not become
science-less in the future. In
this volume,
respect both
viewpoints and

attempt to
weave these
notions
together.

Throughout this book, different types of
emotions in
unfold. For instance, Harry Aponte presents

intimacy, while
Doug Flemons
and Shelley
Green, a
married couple,
share a
humorous yet
sensitive
article on
sexual concerns

in couples, and finally, Daniel Handel provides a powerful story of the use of hypnosis with a dying adolescent. In addition to the emotional side of psychotherapy, the authors include the scientific aspects of psychotherapy. A discussion about various models of brief therapy is given, emphasizing that the therapeutic effects of the treatment models are attributable to "the non-treatment specifics" of the therapeutic interaction. A review of empirical data on the key elements of Ericksonian hypnosis and

the social-psychological
aspect of Ericksonian
hypnosis are discussed as well. Finally,
an important,
and perhaps
controversial,
essay on ethics
in the general

non-therapeutic
use of hypnosis
by lawyers and
its use in recovering
memories is presented.

A delightful book for preschoolers who are curious about counting! Curious George is a monkey who's learning math—that is, how to count all his favorite things. Not only that, but he's going to do it both forward and backward—from one to ten, and then ten to one! With this colorful book featuring classic illustrations by H.A. Rey, “youngsters count along with ‘1 curious monkey’ as he points out ‘2 dinosaurs,’ ‘3 tasty donuts’ and up to ‘10 paper boats’ before counting down again” (Publishers Weekly).
