

Instincts The Hidden Spirits That Drive You

Vols. 5-15 include "Bibliography of child study," by Louis N. Wilson.

Real World Poetry Book Two is a continuation of the style of poems, of my first poetry book, Real World Poetry. Some few of these poems have appeared as prose embedded within the text of my other writings. The mood of these poems is intended to address the lack of objective truth within many of the world's major philosophies, and to call attention to hidden seeds, which will eventually determine both our near and distant future. Some of the poems may seem to some few readers to be overly grating, but the purpose is to awakening those few readers to the perils of worshipping forever, without reflective thought, those philosophies and mythologies, whose messages should have long ago crumbled from lack of any supportive substance and from their old, very old, age.

Based on Stanford University psychologist Kelly McGonigal's wildly popular course "The Science of Willpower," The Willpower Instinct is the first book to explain the science of self-control and how it can be harnessed to improve our health, happiness, and productivity. Informed by the latest research and combining cutting-edge insights from psychology, economics, neuroscience, and medicine, The Willpower Instinct explains exactly what willpower is, how it works, and why it matters. For example, readers will learn:
• Willpower is a mind-body response, not a virtue. It is a biological function that can be improved through mindfulness, exercise, nutrition, and sleep.
• Willpower is not an unlimited resource. Too much self-control can actually be bad for your health.
• Temptation and stress hijack the brain's systems of self-control, but the brain can be trained for greater willpower.
• Guilt and shame over your setbacks lead to giving in again, but self-forgiveness and self-compassion boost self-control.
• Giving up control is sometimes the only way to gain self-control.
• Willpower failures are contagious;you can catch the desire to overspend or overeat from your friends;but you can also catch self-control from the right role models.
In the groundbreaking tradition of Getting Things Done, The Willpower Instinct combines life-changing prescriptive advice and complementary exercises to help readers with goals ranging from losing weight to more patient parenting, less procrastination, better health, and greater productivity at work.

Jaguar and Five Rabbit

With Supplementary Demonstrations of the Divine Communication of the Narratives of Creation and the Flood

Within these pages lives a story of love, of friendships, and of families, which are imbedded within a place and time, where the most diametrically opposite of human values existed and survived side-by-side, where heaven and hell daily rubbed their social elbows, and each of their elements were ever threatening the survival of their counterpart. Here is a story of people caught between the gears and wheels of their god's invisible machinery that daily drives their universe. Here is portrayed both the physical and psychological landscape of a time whose structures, writings, and beliefs have now been systematically destroyed by a new foreign master and a new foreign religion, which has a so-called "Modern Strategy" about blood sacrifice and intellectual domination. Here is the story of lovers, whose powerful desire to be forever together, is the magic that guides them through an ever-flashing nightmare that is their reality. The story opens in the capital city of the Aztec Empire during the night of November the 8th in the year 1516 CE.

In 1519 Cortés sailed from Cuba, leading an expedition of search and discovery of any lands to the west of Cuba. What he found was a land and a civilization that was larger and richer than anything in his wildest dreams. He became compulsively determined to have this new land and its riches as his own. But within the fog that hides the future, it was the Aztec's own beliefs and their complete ignorance of any nations existing beyond the seas that made up the substance of that fog, and led them blindly into a collision with a fate, which time and distance had been ever-ripening. It is through that fog that the Aztec's continuing story and the love of fair of Jaguar and Five Rabbit unfolds within a quite unbelievable military struggle for the conquest of Mexico.

Real World Poetry contains a group of individual poems, which I wrote over a very extended period of time. Some few of these poems have singularly appeared in some of my other writings. The mood of these poems is intended to address the lack of objective truth within many of the major philosophies of the world's cultures, and to dress those wounds, of cognitive dissonance, with a dressing of hope and guidance towards a more reasonable outlook upon life, and of life's struggles to discover a meaningful perspective, which can be embraced by reasonable peoples, allowing them to find a guiding path to peace-of-mind, and some form of contentment within a world that everyday waxes and wanes between its self proclaimed ancient morals, which have grown so crumbly with time's passing, as to be without any substantial or meaningful substance.

Prayers are powerful, and they really work when applied correctly! "The Mind of Mastery: Path of Prayers" says that in order to open up the floodgates of our blessings, we must learn how to effectively pray for it. For everyone will have this cycle that will incorporate seed, time, and harvest: sunrise and sunset;

morning, afternoon, and evening: spring, summer, fall, and winter; and so on. However, in the midst of the cycles of Mother Nature, we have the cycles of LIFE; and, this is where "The Mind of Mastery: Path of Prayers" comes in to create a PATH that will keep us on track or in purpose, causing all things to work together for our good. "The Mind of Mastery: Path of Prayers" also says that when we learn how to use the Book of Psalms in conjunction with our daily prayers, it invokes the Power of the Holy Spirit to release the Wisdom and Blessings of our past, present, and future. "The Mind of Mastery: Path of Prayers" says that our daily walk is indeed a journey, and it is through the journey that we determine our end result of whatever we do, say, or become. Of course, we all say that we believe in destiny; but, at the same time, we fail to realize that our destiny is depending upon the choices that we are or are not making on a moment by moment basis. Therefore, if we have a desire to overcome, rebound, and triumph over the trials that we are destined to have, we must tap into our Mind of Mastery. This powerful tool helps us to lean not to our own understanding, therefore, developing a faith that will allow blessings to follow us or flow to us, along with a supernatural covering that will put our enemies at bay. The Book of Psalms allows us to take biblical prayers and make them our own based on the situation, circumstance, or event that's in our lives. It also helps us to get on one accord with God, especially when we do not know what to pray for or how to pray. "The Mind of Mastery: Path of Prayers" has found that some people use the Psalms only when needed; but, in order to receive the best results, we should recite a Psalm every day, especially for giving thanks or to exercise gratefulness. Although we do not need a degree to have an effective prayer, all we need is the right tools to enable favor and grace to fall upon our prayers. "The Mind of Mastery: Path of Prayers" says that in our Walk with God, using proper protocol, proper technique, along with a little eloquence goes a long way. We are not saying to go overboard when praying; all we are saying is to exercise Biblical Principles, humility, and reverence when praying-God will open up the windows of Heaven, where we will not have room enough to store our blessings. GUARANTEED! "The Mind of Mastery: Path of Prayers" wants us to understand that we cannot be clueless or careless about what we want, what we do, what we say, or what we become. We are held accountable for our actions, reactions, or the lack thereof when it comes down to our Spiritual Walk with God, and the prayers that are going to keep us on track or on a straight and narrow path. Although we do not talk about instincts much when we are talking about prayer; but, our instincts are indeed a navigational tool used to determine what to pray for, when to pray, how to pray, where to pray, and why we need to pray. It is our instincts that wake us up in the middle of the night to pray. It is our instincts that let us know when something is wrong. It is our instincts that allow us to embrace the Ancient Wisdom of God. It is our instincts that awaken the spirit from within, and it is our instincts that enable us to connect with the Holy Spirit if we do not allow the abuses of life to detour us on our path to greatness. Now, with that being said, we introduce to you, "The Mind of Mastery: Path of Prayers."

Through extensive textual analysis, this book concludes that the prevailing opinion about the nature of modern and contemporary philosophy is wrong. It maintains that almost all modern and contemporary philosophy is deconstructed, secularized, Augustinian theology, not philosophy. The work is divided into eight chapters, a guest Foreword by Herbert I. London (President of the Hudson Institute and Olin Professor of Humanities at New York University) notes, bibliography, and an index. Chapter 1 (Protagoras Sees the Ghost of Hippo) considers Cartesian thought, Hobbes, and Newton. Chapter 2 (I Feel the Spirit Move Me) examines Locke, Berkeley, and Hume. Chapter 3 (The Urge to Emerge) investigates Lessing and Rousseau. Chapters 4 (To Dream the Impossible Dream) and 5 (Wake Up, Wake Up, You Sleepyhead) treat Kant. Chapters 6 (I Am Music) and 7 (Looking for God in All The Wrong Places) deal with Hegel. Chapter 8 (Dirty Dancing: Higher Education as Enlightened Swindling) concludes that a lack of philosophical and historical experience coupled with a widespread inability to read philosophical texts according to the intention of the author (1) causes us to mistake secularized theology for philosophy and (2) is a main cause for the decline of contemporary universities.

This book is the third in my series of four books dealing with Intelligence, Instincts, and Consciousness. The simple and truthful realization of what we are, and how we got to where we are within nature's world, is the ultimate truth that any philosophy could ever propose to know. It is ultimately the most powerful state that any human mind can ever attain. It is a true kind of nirvana. It is with this knowing state of mind that we can make ever-new beginnings and provide for a future where our chances are best for surviving whatever random hills that nature will with great certainty rise up against us. The fact that we might have to eventually face up to what we are as completely definable creatures in terms of a very complex organization of billions of very simple structures is not in anyway whatsoever a degradation of the truth of our humanity. Understanding what we are has led us to realize both the miraculous and morally good achievements of our kind, and also to an understanding of the basic nature of our more hidden ugly and evil actions.

No one had given much consideration to the great broad spectrum of the human condition, which would demand its satisfaction, even though it had been stripped from its natural home. The individual's instinctive creature found itself resident within a closed capsule, where it still needed to satisfy its infinite secret yearnings, and to find contentment for the beast, which secretly underlies civilized humanity, that it might be peaceably consoled. Tap into your God-given intuition and start achieving ultimate success with this inspiring #1 New York Times bestseller from Bishop T.D. Jakes. If you have ever felt misaligned, this book is for you. If you have lost the rhythm, the passion, or the thrill of living in alignment, then keep reading. As He did with the very cells that comprise our bodies and the dry bones that were joined together for new life, God has given us deeper instincts to be attracted to those things that fit a higher and better purpose. Never settle for less than God's best for your life. Some people have the courage to move beyond the ordinary, from the methodical mediocre into the revolutionary realization of where they belong. You can have this sense of belonging only when you connect to your core calling. The calling to creativity, the calling to teach, to give, to build, are all part of allowing your instinct to guide you to the "something more" that you suspect is out there. If you are ready to break through the confines of where you are and discover where you are meant to be, then Instinct is your key!!--EndFragment--
