Using Lady Morgan's The Wild Irish Girl as his point of departure, Thomas J. Tracy argues that nineteenth-century debates over what constitutes British national identity often revolved around representations of Irishness, especially Irish womanhood. He maps the genealogy of this development in fiction, political discourse, and the popular press, from Edgeworth's Castle Rackrent through Trollope's Irish novels, focusing on the pivotal period from 1806 through the 1870s.

History that doesn't suck: Smart, crude, and hilariously relevant to modern life. Those who don't know history are doomed to repeat it. Too bad it's usually boring as sh*t. Enter The Captain, the ultimate storyteller who brings history to life (and to your life) in this hilarious, intelligent, brutally honest, and crude compendium to events that happened before any of us were born. The entries in this compulsively readable book bridge past and present with topics like getting ghosted, handling haters, and why dog owners rule (sorry, cat people). Along the way you'll get a glimpse of Edith Wharton's sex life, dating rituals in Ancient Greece, catfishing in 500 BC, medieval flirting techniques, and squad goals from Catherine the Great. You'll learn why losing yourself in a relationship will make you crazy--like Joanna of Castile, who went from accomplished badass to Joanna the Mad after obsessing over a guy known as Philip the Handsome. You'll discover how Resting Bitch Face has been embraced throughout history (so wear it proudly). And you'll see why it's never a good idea to f*ck with powerful women--from pirate queens to diehard suffragettes to Cleo-f*cking-patra. People in the past were just like us--so learn from life's losers and emulate the badasses. The Captain shows you how.

An alien intelligence initiates first contact with the Earth, but it may be the last thing we ever hear. As Cal-Tech astrophysicist Allan Sands prepares to spend another perfect Pasadena Christmas with his wife and children, he realizes something isn't right. The television doesn't work, mobile networks are down, and the internet slows to a halt. When Allan notices celestial objects are absent from the early-morning sky he knows this is no power outage or terrorist attack. He heads to nearby Mt. Wilson Observatory, where he discovers the cause of the strange Event is worse than he could have imagined. From his perch above Los Angeles Allan can see the oncoming tsunami that will devastate the coastline and kill millions, foreshadowing disasters soon to befall the entire planet. And he may be the only person who knows why. 2,500 miles away at Hickam Air Force Base in Honolulu Lieutenant Lee Green and her raptor squad are the only pilots left to escort the president to safety as the world scrambles to save lives and comprehend what is happening. Their next mission: Find Allan Sands and the other scientists on the president's secret First Contact list. Will the world be ready to hear what the scientists conclude about the mysterious so-called Event that turned day to night? When a strange object is spotted heading for the Earth the world wonders if the aliens are coming in peace to help us survive or to finish what they started. Equal parts high concept and high action, the Filter Trap explains Fermi's Paradox in a way that contrasts the hidden terrors of the universe with the ever-present hope in the human heart.

Intensely private radio personality Art Bell, who lives in the middle of the desert 65 miles west of Las Vegas--where he broadcasts his radio shows--finally comes forward with his fascinating autobiography.
