From Queen of Tarts to the nation's heart, Mary Berry shares her Recipe for Life.'In the words of my father, my birth of trouble...'From the moment she came into the world - two weeks early, throwing her parents' lives into disarray - gracefully but firmly done things her own way.Born in 1935, in the city of Bath, Mary's childhood was a curious mix of and ramblings, and alarming air raids; of a spirited and outdoorsy home life and a dreaded school existence. All nearly short by an almost fatal bout of polio when she was thirteen, which isolated Mary in hospital, away from beloved family for months.Recovery saw her turn to her one true passion - cookery. And so began a love affair that has - so far - spanned remarkable decades; from demonstrating ovens in the early 1950s to producing glossy food magazines in the 60s and becoming the country's most prolific and - many would say - best loved cookery writer. Until her emergence in the 1990s as a TV sensation and style icon on the Great British Bake Off.As a working mother, at the heart of a busy household, Mary is an expert at the art of juggling, even bringing her working life into her home with her Aga school. And there have been terrible tragedy and many joys along the way. In this touching, evocative and fascinating memoir, we accompany Mary's journey of nearly eighty years; a life lived to the full, with a wicked sense of fun and an eye for the absurd, it is the delightfully traditional but thoroughly modern woman.Fans of The Great British Bake Off can't wait to get their hands on Mary Berry's Recipe for Life.Born in 1935, Mary has been teaching Britain how to cook for over half a century. Spice-packed, punchy, fresh Indian-inspired dishes to get on the table in 30 minutes or under. This is the food that Nisha Katona, TV chef and creator and face of the Mowgli Indian restaurants, cooks at home - super speedy, made with easily sourced ingredients, and delivering big, bold flavours. This is the food that Nisha Katona cooks at home:

punchy and delicious Mowgli-style recipes that take you from couch to curry in 30 minutes or less. As at Mowgli, the focus is on food that's big in flavour but also light, healthy and made from accessible ingredients, often just using what's already in your cupboard or fridge. When Nisha started sharing her ideas for a new cookery book encapsulating this approach on her Mowgli Instagram channel during the spring 2020 lockdown, she was thrilled by the hugely positive response. For super usability, the chapters are themed around ingredients: "Poultry", "Meat", "Fish" and "Vegetables", with a desserts chapter as well as one called "Ma, Look Away!" - for Nisha's favourite pasta dishes. Tantalize your tastebuds with "Quick Angry Tandoori" or "Yoghurt Coriander Turkey", "Gingerbread Lamb Steaks" or "Keema Toasties", "Bengali Fish Curry" or "Indian Fish Finger Sandwiches", "Back of the Fridge Curry" or "Million Dollar Green Dahl". All the recipes are meals that range from light lunches to substantial dinners; all you need to do is accompany them with one of the simple sides suggested in the introduction, which could be rice, noodles, potatoes or a chapati wrap. This is the food that real people want: tasty and nutritious meals to whip up without fuss while juggling work and childcare in an often chaotic working-from-home environment.

Whether you are an AGA aficionado or have never cooked on an AGA before, Mary Berry and Lucy Young's new AGA cookbook is just what you need by your side. It is 30 years since AGA first got in touch with Mary Berry about producing the AGA handbook and 15 since she followed it up with Mary Berry's New Aga Cookbook - now she has combined, improved, updated and revamped those books with Lucy's help to produce The Complete Aga Cookbook, which deserves its place on all 21st-century kitchen shelves. There have been many new trends in cooking in the intervening years, and a plethora of new ingredients, and Mary explores them in new recipes, adapting many ideas to the Aga way of cooking. As Mary herself says, an Aga rapidly becomes the centre attraction of the kitchen, acting as a warm focus for family, friends and animals. And cooking on an Aga is a joy: its spacious ovens produce perfectly cooked dishes, time after time. But we haven't forgotten those who cook on conventional cookers and instructions are supplied on each recipe. Complete with all the AGA user information, Mary and Lucy help you get the most out of your AGA as they guide the reader through time- and energy-saving tips - from melting chocolate on the back shelf, to frying drop scones on the Boiling Plate and slow roasting overnight in your Simmering Oven. A few recipes will be familiar (adapted old favourites, which she just couldn't bear to leave out) but, whether new or old, all have been cooked to perfection in the Aga, showing how versatile it really is.

A cookbook and reference guide offers more than a thousand recipes for standard fare and new ideas, plus tips on presentation.
