490 million people log on to YouTube each month-and business owners need to know how to capture them or better be the initial reason for their visit. Jason Rich shares the expertise of practicing entrepreneurs, delivering a step-by-step strategy supported by valuable insights, tips, and resources. From video production to promotion, author Jason R. Rich details how to use the power of YouTube to promote business brands, products, or services, ultimately attracting new customers. Unfamiliar entrepreneurs receive a full tutorial on pre-production and production essentials, from developing video ideas that attract attention to overcoming lighting and sound challenges. Amateur producers receive a full list of equipment needed, and they gain tips from well-known YouTube users on how to produce quality spots without breaking the bank. After covering the basics, Rich - joined by YouTube-savvy entrepreneurs - reveals how small business owners can drive viewers to contact their business. Rich also shows entrepreneurs how they can make money, while promoting themselves.

Almost Everything You Need to Know About Leading the Good Life Too many decisions. Too many choices. What today's consumer must have is a money-and-time-saving guide for conducting the "business of life"—both the big challenges like getting top-notch health care for the family and the best education for the kids, and the pleasurable ones, like plotting a summer vacation. Nancy Keates and her expert colleagues at The Wall Street Journal provide all-new material that gives you a lowdown on: The Savvy Traveler: How to cut to the chase and not only avoid the indignity of cramped plane seats and overpriced tickets, but also get the best and safest seats at the same time. The Fine Art of Dining and Drinking: Landing the hottest restaurant in town—at a discount; picking wine without becoming a wine snob; and learning about "barley matters"—the newest, most interesting brew. How to Speak Geek: Demystifying tech trends, with smart advice on not only what high-tech gadgets to buy but how to use them. Everything You Need to Know About Buying, Selling and Financing a Car: How to get the best and safest vehicle at the best price. Real Estate: Will the bubble burst? Here's how to be an informed buyer and seller along with the basics of buying and designing your home. How to Be an Informed Patient: Choosing a hospital, playing private investigator with your doctor, and learning about the tests you really ought to have (even if you have to pay for them yourself). Getting Real Bang for Your Education Bucks: What you need to know from preschool through college and graduate school. The Great Balancing Act: Managing work and family, and finding out how to avoid the overstretched child and parent syndromes. Financing Your Future: Saving was easy in the 1990s, but the world has changed dramatically. Here's how to deal with the new world of saving, investing, and borrowing money. Shopping: The New Sex? Throw away your Kama Sutra. The number one thrill in shopping is getting a great deal—here's how to play the game and get the best stuff at the best price. The Wall Street Journal Guide to the Business of Life: Both an instruction manual for living life to the fullest and a fun read about what really matters in the day-to-day. It's the basic insight and information you need to navigate through life along with hilarious side trips such as "The Three-Decade Adventure" and "Cruises: Sailing New Waters."
