a budget is a mechanism to manage your finances, for the sole purpose of benefiting your "future self." Establishing and following a budget plan is something that anyone can learn to do, and it's really the first step in attaining financial freedom. Creating a budget or a financial plan involves understanding and tracking one's own income and expenses. In doing this, a person can determine whether or not funds are available for certain needs and luxuries. Of course having a budget will not instantly make all your money problems go away, but it is the absolute best starting point to help you to begin to control your expenses as well as manage your divorced single mom making $24,000 per year and facing down $77,000 in debt, Kumiko Love worried constantly about money. She saw what other moms had—vacations, birthday parties, a house full of furniture—and felt ashamed that she and her son lived in a small apartment and ate dinner on the floor. Worse, when her feelings began to exhaust her, she binge-shopped, reasoning that she'd feel better after a trip to the mall. used to set savings goals and track spending. The premise is simple: at the beginning of each month, the prompts in this book help you to plan how much you would like to save and what you need to do in order to reach your goal. The kakeibo then gives you space to jot down your weekly spending and reflect on the month just gone. The act of completing your journal ensures that saving is a part of your everyday life, while also giving you the opportunity to reflect and improve every month.
