is widely studied by Christians and historians, providing a glimpse into the theology of the Great Awakening of c. 1730–1755. The sermon emphasizes the belief that Hell is a real place.

Edwards hoped that the imagery and language of his sermon would awaken audiences to the horrific reality that he believed awaited them should they continue without calling on Christ to be saved. The underlying point is that God has given humanity a chance to confess their sins.

Edwards says that it is the mere will of God that keeps wicked men from the depths of Hell.

This act of restraint has given humanity a chance to mend their ways and return to Christ.

Sinners in the Hands of a Good God

Preached at Enfield, Connecticut on July 8, 1741, this is perhaps the greatest
sermon ever
preached in America—and is certainly among the most well known.
Owing to its forthright dealing with God's wrath and His intense hatred of sin and the sinner, it is also one of the most controversial.

Indeed, for more than three-quarters of the sermon Edwards lays down a relentless stream of the most vivid and horrifying descriptions of the danger facing unregenerate men.

While it is difficult to read such graphic language, there is abundant hope in the sermon's conclusion.

Edwards puts it this way, "And now you have an extraordinary opportunity, a day wherein Christ has thrown the door of mercy wide open and stands calling and crying with a loud voice to poor sinners." While those who would rather ignore God's justice in favor of His mercy condemn Edwards and his sermon, those who were present and actually heard him preach that day reacted in a decidedly different manner. According to the diary of Reverend Stephen Williams who attended the sermon, "Before the sermon was done there was a great moaning and crying through the whole

House, 'what shall I do to be saved; oh, I am going to hell, etc.'" The diary

goes on to indicate that Edwards had to

interrupt his sermon

and come down to

minister to those who were under

such awful

conviction. And so,

in spite of what the

scoffers might think

or say, "the amazing and astonishing power of God" was manifested among the people that day—with many falling not into the hands of an angry God, but into the arms of a mighty Savior.
