Early Years

Learning From Children Who Read at an Early Age is the result of a three-year research project in which the authors studied a group of children who learnt to read without being taught, from before they started school until the end of Year 2 when they were given their first National Curriculum assessments. Using this study as a framework for examining how children make progress over their time in Key Stage 1 across a range of literacy skills, the authors suggest guidelines which teachers can use to help all children progress with reading.

This Progress with Oxford Grammar, Punctuation and Spelling Age 5-6 workbook will help your child to progress with grammar and punctuation while having fun. It focuses on developing the key grammar and punctuation skills taught in school for Year 1, as part of the Key Stage 1 curriculum.Each Progress with Oxford book is focused on the skills your child will need to master at each stage of the school curriculum. The books are precisely matched to your child's age to make sure they are aligned with school expectations for their year, helping children to fully achieve their potential. The series has been created to help every child develop essential skills at home, with minimal help and support. Picture clues are used to show very young children how to complete activities, whilst reminder boxes, tips and advice support older children to become self-sufficient learners. A lively character accompanies your child through all the colourful and engaging activities, and fun stickers are included to reward their work. A handy progress chart at the end of each book captures their achievements, so you both know what to do next.Find further support on the Oxford Owl at Home website, which provides specific advice on helping your child with grammar and punctuation, and fun activities to extend their skills.

Adorable Addition and Stinky Subtraction, Age 5-6

The two new titles in the Spelling Today series, for children aged between 5 and 7, complement the four existing titles for children aged between 7 and 11. Each book features over 150 essential words to practise. The words are introduced then practised using the 'Look, Learn, Cover, Write, Check' technique. These books fill the gaps in our current very popular Spelling Today series, providing first-class educational materials for parents to use with their children at home. Spelling is an area of great concern for many parents - these books provide a clear, logical approach for parents to follow with their children.

75 tear-off sheets full of opportunities for children to practise spelling - adding prefixes and suffixes, tackling tricky starting and ending sounds and choosing the right homophones in their writing. The book also includes awkward spellings and high-frequency words, gradually increasing in difficulty to build up children's confidence as they go. Illustrations: Full colour throughout Spend just 10 minutes a day learning and master your vocabulary Set the clock and off you go! Young learners excel in short bursts, so 10 Minutes a Day: Vocabulary from Carol Vorderman is the perfect introduction to vocabulary for younger children. Games and tests take a short amount of time so you get maximum fun for maximum effect. There are 10 minute activities on synonyms, word meanings and verb endings. Plus the 'parents' notes' section gives the answers, explains common pitfalls and gives guidance on how to avoid them. 10 Minutes a Day workbooks are the perfect at home reinforcement for subjects learned in school. So, set the funky orange timer to test your child in fun 'beat the clock' exercises - and let 10 Minutes a Day: Vocabulary with Carol Vorderman show your child how much fun vocabulary can be.

With contributions from leading international researchers, Contemporary Perspectives on Reading and Spelling offers a critique of current thinking on the research literature into reading, reading comprehension and writing. Each paper in this volume provides an account of empirical research that challenges aspects of accepted models and widely accepted theories about reading and spelling. This book develops the argument for a need to incorporate less widely cited research into popular accounts of written language development and disability, challenging the idea that the development of a universal theory of written language development is attainable. The arguments within the book are explored in three parts: overarching debates in reading and spelling reading and spelling across languages written language difficulties and approaches to teaching. Opening up the existing debates, and incorporating psychological theory and the politics surrounding the teaching and learning of reading and spelling, this edited collection offers some challenging points for reflection about how the discipline of psychology as a whole approaches the study of written language skills. Highlighting ground-breaking new perspectives, this book forms essential reading for all researchers and practitioners with a focus on the development of reading and spelling skills.
