phonetic transcription skills. Through in-text exercises and accompanying audio recordings, this introductory text makes the learning of phonetics clear, systematic, and easy. Appropriate for both undergraduate and graduate students in the speech and hearing professions, this book focuses on teaching students the practical skills necessary to successfully perform phonetic transcription of individuals with speech sound disorders. Beginning with pertinent information on normal speech production, this introductory text then introduces students to the transcription of consonants and vowels, connected speech, and

In this near-future America, where the security-obsessed authorities require citizens to carry DNA cards, Daniel meets the feisty and beautiful Eleanor. But by falling for her, Daniel also puts her in terrible danger. Daniel pursues the facts about his origins but is hunted by an agent sent by Dryden to bring him to heel. Can Daniel find out the truth whilst trying to evade those who think they own him? As his enemies close in Daniel must draw on resources he never knew he had to win his

Australia and a range of 'survivors', it's time these stories were told in the public interest. There is absolutely no question that the public would be horrified if it understood the amount of damage being caused by an inefficient, incompetent regulator. Equally, they would be horrified if they knew that policy changes are nothing more than mere distractions to prevent the public from identifying the significant injustice being wreaked daily by a government body that is supposed to be beyond reproach. The public interest is not served when people are dying, killing themselves, experiencing nervous breakdowns so severe that they can

It's also not served when industry and subject matter experts have been 'evicted' from the system that should be helping to lay the foundations for our future generations. In April 2020, the Administrative Appeals Tribunal ("AAT") made a significant finding that should change the way private RTOs are viewed during merits review and stay hearings. When the AAT makes a statement that 'We have concluded that in future cases where there is a contest about non-compliances, ASQA must start and do so without the assumption that its allegations of
