The themes of teacher autonomy, practical experience, and program rigor are manifest explicitly and implicitly throughout these papers prepared for the National Commission for Excellence in Teacher Education. Both the problems and resolution approaches presented under each theme suggest what can and must occur in teacher education to enhance the professional status of teachers. The commission papers in this volume are: (1) "The Schools and Preservice Education: Expectations and Reasonable Solutions" (Gene E. Hall, Walter Doyle, James V. Hoffman); (2) "Recruitment, Selection, Retention and Graduation of Teacher Education Students" (Henrietta Schwartz); (3) "Teacher Education: An All-University Responsibility" (Linda B. Jones); (4) "Restructuring Teacher Education: The University of New Hampshire's Five-Year Program" (Michael C. Andrew); (5) "The University of Kansas Extended Teacher Education Program" (Dale Scannell); (6) "Teacher Education Reform in Tennessee" (Robert T. Saunders); (7) "The Florida Beginning Teacher Program" (David C. Smith, Garfield W. Wilson); (8) "Crossing the Bridges: The First Years of Teaching" (Gary A. Griffin); (9) "The Next Generation of Teacher Preparation Programs" (Kenneth R. Howey); and (10) "Guiding Images for Teaching and Teacher Education" (Hendrik D. Gideonse). (JD)

This text is designed specifically to meet the needs of preservice teachers who have had little experience working in middle-grade classrooms. Three ideas are central: * teaching language arts at the middle level is a complex activity that demands expertise in the use of a variety of strategies, * reading and writing are key processes of language arts study, but so are speaking, listening, and viewing/visually representing, and * teaching the processes of effective communication is crucial, but middle school students must also begin to learn the content of the field--literature, language, and media. Teaching Language Arts in Middle Schools gives balanced attention to various teaching strategies, processes, and content, demonstrating how all of these connect to improve students' abilities to communicate. In this text: *Research and theory are summarized and applied to practice *A non-prescriptive approach is integrated with practical information *Debates in the field are acknowledged *Additional reading and research are emphasized *The author's voice and point of view are explicit

This book makes a contribution to a global conversation about the competencies, challenges, and changes being introduced as a result of digital technologies. This volume consists of four parts, with the first being elaborated from each of the featured panelists at CELDA (Cognition and Exploratory Learning in the Digital Age) 2014. Part One is an introduction to the global conversation about competencies and challenges for 21st-century teachers and learners. Part Two discusses the changes in learning and instructional paradigms. Part Three is a discussion of assessments and analytics for teachers and decision makers. Lastly, Part Four analyzes the changing tools and learning environments teachers and learners must face. Each of the four parts has six chapters. In addition, the book opens with a paper by the keynote speaker aimed at the broad considerations to take into account with regard to instructional design and learning in the digital age. The volume closes with a reflective piece on the progress towards systemic and sustainable improvements in educational systems in the early part of the 21st century.

In this second edition of his classic resource, Joseph Lowman expands on his earlier model of effective teaching to place greater emphasis on motivational skill and commitment to teaching. He presents a practical new learning model that compares six sources of influence on what and how students learn in a college course. All types of teachers and instructors will discover options on how to organize classes and use group work to promote learning. They will also find a checklist for assessing their classroom performance on video, detailed instructions for using video analysis to improve their technique, and an innovative approach to evaluating their overall performance.
