The medical options available for actually treating impotence are woeful at best. If you're game enough you could try a penis prosthesis or penis pump or implant (which are permanent and irreversible), or take the plunge and opt for radical vascular reconstructive surgery on your old fella to try and increase the blood flow (which rarely works). Or instead, you could go with the easier medical approaches of synthetic hormone therapy (which increases your risk of heart disease and prostate cancer) or you could decide to take pharmaceutical medications such as Cialis or the famous blue "Viagra" pill. But its been well documented that the side effects of these drugs are severe and even dangerous. Here's just a few for good measure Nausea, headaches, irregular heartbeat, seizures, heart attack, stroke, memory loss, loss of color vision and blindness (yes I know the joke... too much sex makes you go blind anyway!) All while cracks aside, there really aren't any safe and viable medical treatments for impotence... not one. There are, however, some excellent and safe home remedies for erectile dysfunction that really do work amazingly well. Dr. Subhash Thaker presented a scientific paper on small sample in seventh world congress of sexology organized by ISACT in India using same model. In this method, all the erectile behavior is restricted. Auto penile stimulation is given as a task. The patient is asked to accomplish the task by oil massage. The massage is used therapeutically and response is used as a parameter of improvement. This is a unique and easy model of treatment for erectile dysfunction known as impotence by non professionals. This was developed first time by Dr.Thaker during his forty years of clinical practice. This model unlike Masters and Johnson does not require help of female/male sexual partners. Any types of medicines are not used except placebo so it is natural method. This treatment includes feeble erection and inability to maintain erection. The entire program is written keeping male-female sex act, but same model applies to male-male sex act as well.

Erectile dysfunction (ED) has become a common problem for men these days. Cardiovascular diseases, diabetes, obesity, multiple sclerosis, Parkinson's disease, tobacco use, alcohol or drug abuse, prescription medications, prostate cancer, or injuries or surgeries of the pelvic or the spinal area are only some of the physical causes of this condition. It can also occur due to depression, relationship problems, and excessive stress. The problem is a complex one and can cause relationship problems among couples and lead to low self-confidence and depression in men, which further worsens the problem of erectile dysfunction. When you consult a physician for this issue, they may prescribe medications such as Viagra, Levitra, Cialis, and Stendra. These drugs work by enhancing the effect of nitric oxide, a chemical produced by your body. Nitric oxide will relax the muscles in the penis, thus improving blood flow and helping you get an erection. While these drugs will get you the desired results, they shouldn't be taken on a continuous basis. Like all medications they also have side-effects, such as stomach upset, backache, headaches, change in vision, nasal congestion and flushing. This is why it is not recommended that you take these drugs on a continuous basis. There are natural ways of curing erectile dysfunction. This basically means changing your diet, letting go off harmful habits, exercising, and utilizing the power of herbs and supplements. If you are wondering how to do it, this guide is just right for you. It will help you understand erectile dysfunction and overcome your erection issues with the help of diet, exercises, and herbal remedies. Let's get started!
