Though Natalie longed to tell Iman unknown to her, Iman's manipulative uncle hid the truth. Even as she goes on with her life, caring for her daughter and her dying mother, she cannot get thoughts of Iman out of her mind. Now, years later, a chance meeting brings back all she tried to forget. It's clear Iman wants to continue where they left off, and it's just as clear to Natalie that he might break her heart again. Especially if he ever finds out that little Iris is his. For Iman, Natalie was always more than a one-night stand. Despite being promised to another by his parents, Iman can't suppress his excitement—or desire—at seeing her again. But this time, Iman is not ready to say good-bye. He makes her a job offer she cannot refuse, and as the two spend more time together, it's clear to Iman he cannot marry his fiancé, not when the love he feels for Natalie burns so deep.
