An employer's cost to replace a driver ranges from $5,000 to $8,000. Turnover can be prevented and retention increased by developing a driver with the life skills necessary to be successful in their daily working lives. A Survival Guide for Truck Drivers is the only book written for students or experienced drivers that offers, in a straightforward and nonpatronizing style, the practical tips for making life on the road more stress-free and comfortable – both for the driver and his or her family. Until now, drivers usually entered the transportation industry armed with a Commercial Drivers License and perhaps stories and information from friends and family. This new guide not only provides valuable information and invaluable insights into the life of a professional driver, but also offers resources and encouragement for those who keep North America's commerce moving down the highway. Topics range from Money Management and Professional Improvement to Staying Healthy and Dealing With Stress – presenting advice to make the driver's life better and happier. This lifestyle guide has a universal application that will appeal to student drivers, company drivers, owner-operators, and also the drivers' families. A driving school graduate's chance of landing a good job partly depends on his or her possession of life skills. Good retention tools are needed for the experienced but problem driver. A Survival Guide for Truck Drivers is the one solution for successful drivers.

Chris Aragon provides a direct, somewhat cynical, and slightly gruff look at the everyday tasks and responsibilities of being an Over The Road Truck Driver as an employee of a very large trucking company. Hollywood has always painted the public picture of what yesterday's trucker looked like, but Chris's hard toned look at the modern and highly regulated Commercial Drivers License paints a much different picture. With Road Safety at the center, Chris attempts to explain some of the complexity that is today's Trucking Industry for the Non-Owner-Operator of the 18 Wheeler Culture. From the starting point of obtaining a Class A Commercial Driver's License to the day to day dealings with company management to the suggestions for comfort while out on a national tour, Chris lays his no nonsense approach out in a raw sense without the hidden meanings tucked in the folds. In Chris's previous full career as a Corrections Officer Sergeant in a maximum security setting, he developed a Funny Frowned Face as opposed to a poker face in communicating his thoughts. Chris often jokes about his Grumpy Personality with many of his friends and family and he hopes that the raw and pungent outlay doesn't protrude itself as overly provocative to any reader.

Running your own food truck is serious business! It can be an incredibly rewarding endeavor for hands-on entrepreneurs. Are you ready to handle the day-to-day challenges and build your reputation in the mobile food industry? Your mobile business needs to make an impact today because the number of food trucks hitting the streets continues to grow. The longer you wait, the more competition there will be. So how do you make your food truck stand out? The Food Truck Owner's Handbook contains valuable tips which will help you as a food truck owner build better customer relations, comply with regulations and even increase your cash flow. The mobile food industry can quickly become over-saturated so you'll need to be able to quickly distinguish yourself and your food truck from the competition. The Food Truck Owner's Handbook is designed for existing food truck owners as well as those who are just getting started. You'll be able to take actionable steps with real solutions and advice to help you overcome the most common issues faced by mobile entrepreneurs. What's Inside: How much revenue do food truck owners earn How to generate more revenue Creating strategic partnerships How to pass a surprise health inspection Creating a positive customer experience Maintaining your equipment How much to pay your employees Customer payment options When to hire employees And more! Food truck owners are a unique breed of business owner. Take action now and gain a significant advantage over your competition!

Let's talk about the money, most truck drivers can expect to earn $30,000-$40,000 in their 1st year. I know some drivers who work as Solo drivers and decide to give up their apartments so they can stay in the truck all year long and save money. They still take days off from time to time, and stay with friends, family or rent a hotel for a few days so they can take a break. Once you have 6 months experience you may be able to find a job that pays more money. I've seen motivated drivers earning in the $60,000 range in their 1st year. The money is there to earn if you look for it. Too many drivers get complacent and they stay with the same company in the same position making low wages for years and years. Sometimes all you need to do to increase your income is switch positions within the company. If the company you work for doesn't offer anything that will take you to the next level then find another company that will. I know a Walmart driver who earns $100,000 year and he's home every night and weekend.

Companies pay you in cents per mile (CPM) so the more mileage you drive the more you earn The bottom line is company drivers can make anywhere from $30,000 to around $100,000 per year. Stay away from company lease options, 99% of the time only the company does well with this type of position. They will make their lease program sound perfect, touting how you will be your own boss and make lots of money. Drivers often find themselves making just enough to cover the WEEKLY truck lease payment. If you want to truly be your own boss as a owner operator of your own truck then save up the money to buy a used truck cash or you may be able to find a 3rd party (not company sponsored) lease program. I have seen a couple of decent 3rd party lease programs, these will allow you to contract with any company you want. So if you're not making enough money with one company then you can easily switch to another. Owner operators can make anywhere from $50,000 - $250,000 per year. About the Expert I have been driving a truck full time for over 4 years at the time of this publishing. I have been a company driver for 3 of those years and an owner/operator for a bit over one. In the 4+ years that I've been driving I have spent one year driving most of the lower 48 states. I haven't made it up to North Carolina, and a few other states in the northeast but all of the others I have. For the last two years I have been truck driving with my team from Los Angeles to the Kansas City area and back. We did that twice a week. After doing that for about a year I was able to get a driving position working nights and being home every day. I did that for almost year. I left there because the company did a pathetic job of maintaining their equipment. I was afraid of getting stopped by law enforcement. So I left them and got my own truck to take care of. Now I am contracted with a carrier to move their freight and it works out a lot better. HowExpert publishes quick 'how to' guides on all topics from A to Z by everyday experts.

Feeling like your trucking career is hitting a dead end? Here's how you can level up... Have you been working as a truck driver for years with nothing to show for it? Are you tired of answering to someone else, working long hours, spending days away from home... and only getting a small share of the profits? Do you want to have more control over your time, more flexibility and independence, as well as a bigger cut of the profits? Becoming an owner-operator may be your ticket out of dissatisfaction and the key to finally feeling fulfilled at work. By starting your own trucking business, you can finally take charge - not only of your career, but of your personal life, too. You can set your own schedules, choose your own loads, and charge your own rates. You can even choose to bring your partner or spouse along for the ride, no permission needed. However, striking out on your own also means being responsible for more than just driving. As an owner-operator, getting clients, paying the bills, maintaining your truck, and everything else, will all fall on you. Which is why it's so important that, if you want to get your business started on the right foot, you don't go into it blindly. The good news is that preparing for this exciting new chapter of your life is easier than you think. All you need is the expert advice included in this clear-cut and easy-to-understand guide. In Trucking Business Guide for Beginners, you will discover: The most important decision you will make in your trucking business that could spell the difference between success and failure What to watch out for when leasing or financing your truck - and how to avoid losing money before you've even started How to start your own owner-operator company - from choosing and registering your business to getting your authority to operate How to save on your taxes by taking advantages of these legal tax deductions Why you shouldn't accept just any customer you can get - and what type of client you should be looking for How you can charge higher rates and still get regular customers A sneak peek into what a typical day is like as an owner-operator - so that you know what to expect before you start Industry regulations you must comply with - or you'll be risking thousands of dollars in fines or even the closure of your business 8 easy-to-implement habits that will save thousands in fuel costs each year And much more. Starting any business is hard, no matter what the industry. The trucking business is even harder because of the unique challenges it faces, such as driver shortages and volatile fuel prices. But when you know what you're working towards and how to achieve it, you can overcome any challenge that stands in your way. And the rewards, both personal and financial, will be all worth it. Become an owner-operator today and take that first step to freedom, independence, and wealth. If you want to be your own boss, work your own hours, and keep 100% of your profits, then scroll up and click the "Add to Cart" button right now.
