"Interesting facts about animals, for kids"--

You've heard the adage before: The more you know, the more you realize you don't know. Yes, the Socratic paradox is alive and kicking, even in this age of instant, accessible, and unlimited information. The world is filled with things that just can't be explained. There are things right in front of us that we don't even notice and then there are those we have absolutely no idea about. Facts that haven't been heard by most of us or haven't been told to most of us. There is a small town in Brazil called Novia Do Cardeiro occupied by more than 600 women with no men. In 2019, a goat was elected as the first pet mayor of the Vermont town of Fair Haven. The flame of peace in Japan has been burning since August 1st, 1960. Of course, all of these are fascinating and interesting facts. But is even more fascinating about these facts are the truths that form them. -Why is that town occupied by only women?

-Who elects a goat as mayor of a town? -Why would a flame be burning for more than 50 years? It is these questions and more that this book is ready to answer.

Powerful pharaohs, deadly curses, beautiful queens, legendary cities, tombs filled with gold . . . you'll know it all by the time you finish this smart and wacky book! Did you know that ancient Egyptians formed the world's first police force? The 365-day calendar? We have ancient Egypt to thank for that, too! And the next time your parents tell you to brush your teeth, you can tell them that ancient Egyptians invented the first toothbrush and toothpaste. In this cool book, you'll find out what life was like 3,000 years ago along the banks of the Nile River, explore the lives of famous pharaohs determined to leave their mark no matter the cost, and get the lowdown on famous battles for power. Discover weird facts about famous people, from Cleopatra to King Tut--and about famous places, from Alexandria to Thebes. It's a must-have for all budding Egyptologists, archaeologists, or kids who want to be in-the-know about this fascinating civilization!
